LAUNCH PROBE OF PRISON DEATH OF LOEB

Loeb's Slaying May Develop Prison Scandal

Death Of Noted Prisoner
Likely To Lead To Probe
Of Prison

FELLOW PRISONER HELD FOR MURDER

State's Attorney Not Satisfied With Self Defense Claim Of Prisoner

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)
JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 29.—As Richard Loeb's horribly slashed body was to be borne to the grave in Chicago today, his murder in Stateville penitentiary bade fair to stir up a prison scandal of widespread proportions.

Loeb, co-slayer with Nathan Leopold, Jr., in the murder of Bobby Franks in 1924, was slashed 56 times yesterday by James Day, 25, a fellow convict, during a fight in a shower bath.

Deputy Sheriff Thomas Wise, of Will county, today served a murder warrant on Day. The convict merely shrugged his shoulders as the warrant was brought to his cell.
The action indicated that State's Attorney W. R. McCabe is not satisfied with Day's claim of self defense in the killing.

Meanwhile, a coroner's jury met in Stateville with the hope of obtaining the full details of the prison murder and to seek a motive for the slaying.

PA NEW OBSERVES

In the past several months the demand for furnished rooms has increased very greatly according to a rooming-house owner in downtown New Castle. Although the demand is always heavier in winter than in summer the increase is much above the usual.

St. Valentine's Day comes two weeks from Friday. Pa New saw some girls buying lacey missives in a downtown store yesterday. They had the choice of the entire new stock.

Some highways have been doubled up by attacks of "high joints" and "heaved pavements" but there have been no serious cases in this district as yet. Not near as much trouble of this sort has been experienced this winter as two years ago.

Pa New would like to depend upon feathers to keep him warm these days but the ringnecked pheasants at the Jordan State Game farm seem to be taking it all right.
No casualties from the cold have been reported from the farm as yet.
The birds are furnished lean-to shelters in the fields. In spite of the sheltered lives they have led, they take just as good care of themselves as wild birds.

Youngsters residing in the vicinity of Weaver street, a small street, near the Lincoln-Garfield school, are surely taking advantage of icy conditions which are prevailing. Between lunch hour and after school, the street is the mecca of several dozen boys and girls, some on sleds, others sliding on the treacherous ice, while others play with balls.

Young Pa New believes that boys of the South Side, particularly those who live between Division

Louisiana Pays Final Tribute To Gov. Allen

(International News Service)
BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 29.—
Placed in the same spot in the huge rotunda of the ornate five-million-dollar capitol where just a few months ago stood that of the spectacular and colorful Huey P. Long, the body of Oscar Kelly Allen, governor of Louisiana, lay in state today.

As the massive bronze doors of the capitol, opening onto the broad steps of the building, swung open, thronged by thousands of Louisianians, coming from all sections of the state, stood ready to pass by the casket of the white-haired chief executive and pay their last respects.

They came from the bayou-swept sections of the southwest; from the hills of the northwest. Rich and poor—like they flocked here and mingled together to pay last homage to the man, who, with Long as the leader and the guiding spirit, built a political machine so powerful and impregnable that it shattered every American precedent and fell into a classification all its own.

Within the rotunda, the casket was flanked by a solid blanket of flowers as Louisiana National Guardmen stood guard over the remains of the late chief executive.
Through today the body of Allen will lie in state. Tonight, by train, it will be transferred to the little country town of Winnfield in northwest Louisiana.

Long Dynasty In Louisiana Is Leaderless

Deaths Of Huey Long And
Gov. O. K. Allen Have Wide Effect

JUDGE LECHE MAY BE NEW STRONG MAN

Rumors Breach With National Administration
May Be Patched Up

(International News Service)
BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 29.—
Jolted by two sudden deaths within four months—that of Sen-Huey P. Long and Gov. O. K. Allen—the political dynasty that these men founded was momentarily leaderless today as future movements precipitated the wildest conjecture and speculation.

Out of the rumors and unconfirmed reports there emerged but one definite indication—namely, that Judge Richard Webster Leche, the governor designate, would become Louisiana's next strong man of politics.

And in his role as No. 1 man it was believed by many that the wide-open breach between the state of Louisiana and the Roosevelt administration would be mended.

For Leche, along with several

Await Landon's Address Tonight

Governor Of Kansas May Launch Candidacy For Presidency In Address

(International News Service)
TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 29.—Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas, will make his initial bid for the Republican nomination for president when he speaks at the annual Kansas Day banquet here tonight.

It will be his first major speech on national issues since his name was projected into the presidential picture. The address will be broadcast over both NBC and CBS nation-wide network, at 9 p. m., Central Standard Time.

The governor will break a self-imposed silence of seven months on national political questions. He is expected to launch a direct attack on the Roosevelt administration's spending program and its administration of relief.

Grocers Enjoy Annual Banquet Tuesday Night

Tuesday night was a gala occasion for the butcher, baker, grocery store man, in fact for everyone connected with the food industry in Lawrence county.

In the attractively arranged dining room of the Epworth M. E. church, corner Butler avenue and East Washington street, about 200 persons enjoyed the annual banquet of the Retail Grocers & Food Dealers Association of Lawrence county.
Despite inclement weather which cut down the attendance, the event was a marked success. The affair to beauty contest winners was answered in case of "Miss United

Farm Program Bill Reported

Senate Committee Reports
Bill To Senate During Morning

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The administration's revised farm program, substitute for the invalidated AAA, was today approved almost unanimously by the senate agriculture committee. The vote was 14 to 2. Committee members refused to reveal details of the vote.

As favorably reported by the committee the new program derives its authority from last year's soil conservation act, and includes also a so-called policy amendment designed to bring about within two years a farm system in which the 48 states will participate.

The amendments set forth that soil conservation is the primary objective of the program and sought to subordinate the production control features as incidental to the main objective of conservation and improvement of the soil.

Dolores Martin of 1032 Maryland avenue will leave Thursday morning for Mt. Crescent.

GOV. TALMADGE
HEADS MOVEMENT

Little Left To Be Said By Republicans In Attack
On Administration

AUDITORIUM, Macon, Ga., Jan. 29.—Down here in deepest Dixie, where Democratic regularity is the accepted thing, there was un-loosed today such torrents of denunciation of the Roosevelt administration as even the Republicans themselves might envy in their Cleveland convention next June.

It came from Democratic "grass rooters" called into a Jeffersonian mass-meeting by Georgia's insurgent governor, black-haired, red-gallussed Eugene Talmadge, aided and supported by John Henry Kirby of Texas, who organized what is known as the southern committee to uphold the constitution.

Together, they left little to be said by the Republicans against the Roosevelt government.

Administration Assailed
Talmadge accused the federal administration of attempting to obliterate states' rights, of high crimes and misdemeanors against the laws of economics, of fostering socialism

THREE SCORE ARMY PLANES IN NEW TEST

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—First test of the recently organized general headquarters air force under winter combat conditions, nearly three score army planes will take the air Saturday, it was announced here today, in a two-week attack-defense problem involving the strategic New York-England area.

Thunder of giant bombers and the shriller response of pursuit and attack ships will be heard over the region from Feb. 1 to Feb. 15 as the army holds a "laboratory test" of its planes and personnel.

Woman, 104, Fights Against Death In Punxsutawney Home

(International News Service)
PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Jan. 29.—
Her health precarious, Mrs. Mary Michael who lives here with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Ritter, clung to life today in the hope of observing her 104th birthday tomorrow.

Since her last birthday, when she received a letter from President Roosevelt, her health has failed rapidly and she is now blind, deaf and unable to be up.

Born near Bells Gap, below Altoona, January 30, 1832, she was married three times, her last husband dying 44 years ago. She has two living sisters, Mrs. Hanna Hopkins, Chicago, 87, and Miss Matilda Michael, Big Run, 85. Both are in good health.

Woman Files Court Appeal

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29.—Martha Aber, of Punxsutawney, today filed an appeal with the state supreme court from the final order and decree of orphan court Judge Edward Chalfant denying her a widow's share of the estate of the late P. J. Osterling, millionaire architect.

Her claim was based on an informal ceremony at a dinner party which, she claimed, made her Osterling's wife.

Cold Wave Is Broken Today

Weatherman Gives Pennsylv-
vania Citizens "Breathing Spell" Today

SNOW FLURRIES
DUE TO ARRIVE

(International News Service)
The weatherman gave Pennsylv-vania a "breathing spell" today as the bitter cold wave relaxed its hold sending the mercury upwards. But more cold is scheduled.

Most sections of the state reported a significant rise in temperatures ranging from 10 to 20 degrees above zero this morning, but the weather bureau indicated another sharp drop was due by tomorrow night.

Snow flurries were due tonight and expected to last at intervals through tomorrow evening. But the recent sub-zero blast will be able to be referred to in past tense for some weeks to come at least, weather bureaus reported.

Westwood Case Witness Will Be Sentenced

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29.—Mrs.
Julie Broce, red-haired McKees Rocks beauty shop operator, today awaited sentence from Judge William M. McNaughton, who found her guilty of contempt of court in the Westwood murder trial.

A witness for the commonwealth at the trial of James J. Westwood, Mrs. Broce was accused of telling another witness to "go easy" on Westwood and was ejected from court.

Judge McNaughton indicated he will pass sentence tomorrow after determining what provisions could be made for her two children.

Man Killed Under Wheels Of Trolley

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29.—John Mackey, 40, Pite Station, North Versailles township, was killed early today when he slipped on the icy roadway and fell in front of a trolley car.

Forecast Delay In Payment Of Bonus

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Although 3,000,000 bonus payment application forms had already been distributed from Washington, it will be July 1 before the first of the "bonus bonds" goes into a veteran's hands, and mid-August or September before the huge job of exchanging bonds for adjusted service certificates is completed.

President Roosevelt personally had emphasized the amount of work involved in paying 3,500,000 veterans their bonus. The national commanders of the three major veterans' organizations also are aware of the situation and are counseling their ranks to be patient.

Meanwhile, the President maintained strict silence on the subject of raising funds to meet the bonus payment. He significantly stated, however, that the whole tax situation was under careful study.

Many observers expected Mr.
Roosevelt to demand that Congress impose additional taxes. If he does, he will run into strenuous opposition on Capitol Hill, where the legislators insist the treasury can borrow the money.

Italy Deems Oil Embargo "Hostile Act"

Information Is Forwarded

ROME, Jan. 29.—Italy is prepared to carry on her Ethiopian war at least 18 more months even should the League of Nations impose a fuel embargo—yet the Italian government would consider an oil ban
"a deeply hostile act."

This information, International News Service learned today, has been placed in the hands of the governments of more than one sanctionist country through diplomatic representatives here.

Oil Embargo Not Feared
Although official facts regarding Italy's war resources have been closely guarded, this statement tallies closely with repeated official declarations that an oil embargo at this late stage would not affect the conduct of the war "for a long time."

Nevertheless, a government spokesman said such a step by the

Slight Relief From Zero Wave

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29.—Pittsburgh enjoyed slight relief from frigid temperatures today when the mercury began a slow upward rise after touching a low of eight below zero during the night.

"Cooling breezes" were to follow snow flurries today or tonight. All air lines resumed full service at the county airport. William McCloud, 70, Wilkensburg, found dead of exposure in a field near his home.

Nova Scotia Has Terrific Blizzard

(International News Service)

worst blizzard in 15 years was raging through Nova Scotia today, paralyzing traffic and disrupting shipping and communications. One life was taken.

Expect Large Crowd At President's Ball

Folks all over the United States are going dancing Thursday evening, January 30. They're going dancing because they want to help some little tikes to the place where their feet and limbs will permit them to go dancing some day also.

In short, the President's Ball is being held Thursday evening in the ballroom of the Cathedral.

This is the third successive year the ball has been held. In 1934 the entire net proceeds of the balls all over the country went to the Warm Springs Foundation to aid that organization in its fight against infantile paralysis. In 1935 70 per cent of the net proceeds were kept at home and divided equally between the Jameson Memorial and the New Castle Hospitals. The same plan is in effect this year.

C. A. Patterson, Chairman
Under the direction of Attorney Clarence A. Patterson the plans for the ball this year have come along in a satisfactory manner. Various groups of the city and county have been welded together in a common purpose, that of helping to fight the dread disease.

Not only will there be dancing at the President's Ball, but cards, entertainment and bingo will be provided. Door prizes will be given away and a prize birthday cake will be auctioned off.

While tickets have been on sale for some time they will also be on sale at the door.

(International News Service)
CANTON, O., Jan. 29.—A glowing tribute to William McKinley, to-

of the present federal administration, was left today with Republicans of the district where McKinley carried on his "front porch cam-

Attack On Roosevelt Polic-

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.— Declaring there is "only one man who should try to answer me," Alfred E. Smith resumed his attack on the Roosevelt administration today by characterizing United States Senator Joseph T.
Robinson's address over the radio last night as a "canned" speech which did not come from the heart.

Smith's reference to the "only one man" who could answer him was taken in political circles as a challenge to President Roosevelt to make that answer.

"Sorry For Poor Joe." Scornfully, Al Smith rebuked his running mate on the Democratic ticket in 1928, saying he felt sorry for "poor Joe."

He charged that the administration speakers are beclouding the issue.

"Poor Joe—I'm sorry for him," said Smith. "They put him on a

Routine Duties Begin For King

King Edward VIII Starts
Scrawling "Edward R. I."
On State Papers

(International News Service)
LONDON, Jan. 29.—On the ninth day of his reign, the new king, whose royal duties so far had been the sorrowful ones connected with his father's funeral and the routine ones of scrawling "Edward R. I." on state papers, today buckled down to the wider tasks of his rule while other princes and statesmen took advantage of the notable gathering in London for important negotiations.

While King Edward's personal part in a series of international gatherings was described as purely social, his ministers busily worked on French and Austrian finances, the Austrian restoration, Anglo-German friendship, and the Italo-Ethiopian situation.

SEN. BORAH ISSUES WARNING

Idaho Senator Makes Address

Tells Brooklyn Audience What G. O. P. Must Do To Win Election

PARTY PLATFORM TO BE IMPORTANT

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—If the Republican party hopes to win the presidential election this year it must offer a platform that will serve the interests of all and it must give the rank and file of the membership a voice in the selection of a candidate.

This warning was left with the G. O. P. today by Senator William E. Borah of Idaho.

Speaking at a Brooklyn mass meeting, which was described as the opening effort by his eastern adherents to make him the Republican standard bearer next fall, the Idaho senator declared he wanted to give a frank discussion of the party's present "extraordinary" weakness, even if this operates to his own disadvantage.

Declaring the voters of many states have had no voice in choosing the presidential candidates for 30 years, Borah said:

"I do not know of anything more important to the public than who is going to determine the fitness of the candidates and how it is going to be determined. It does not make so much difference that any particular individual be nominated at Cleveland as it does that the person nominated shall have the confidence and support of the rank and file of the Republican party."

"Party ties rest lightly upon the shoulders of the people at this time, as we unfortunately know, and a system which permits a few self-appointed and self-anointed gentlemen to select a candidate for the presidency without consultation or advice of the voters will not satisfy the millions of voters in this campaign."

Civilized nations are the ones that obey rules of honor until there is more profit in breaking the rules.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food is not digested, it just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up, your stomach, you get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. ## Your Income Tax In Brief

No. 3 WHEN TO REPORT INCOME FROM SALARIES, WAGES, ETC.

Of the millions of income-tax returns that are filed annually, the vast majority are from salaried persons and wage earners whose income is derived from personal services.

In general, compensation for personal services should be reported for taxation purposes in the year it is received or unqualifiedly subject to demand. Compensation credited to the account of or set apart for a taxpayer, without any substantial limitation or restriction, and which may be drawn upon by him at any time, is subject to tax for the year during which so credited or set apart, although not then actually received or rendered during the year 1935, or even prior thereto, but the compensation was not received, or made unqualifiedly subject to demand, by the taxpayer until the year 1935, the entire amount is taxable in the year received, or made unqualifiedly subject to demand, when the taxpayer is reporting on the cash receipts and disbursements basis, which is the basis used by most persons in reporting net income.

The names of all employees to whom payments of $1,000 or over a year are made must be reported. The information return should be made on form 1099, accompanied by transmittal form 1096 showing the number of returns filed. These returns should be filed on or before February 15, 1936.

All of the various types of compensation, unless specifically exempt by statute, or exempt by fundamental law, should be included in the taxpayer's return of gross income, such as salaries, wages, fees, commissions, bonuses, tips, honorariums, prizes, awards, retiring allowances for past services, etc. Where services are paid for in whole or in part with something other than money, the fair market value of the thing taken in payment must be included as income. Other items subject to tax are fees received by ministers of the gospel for funerals, baptisms, marriages and like services; executors' fees; and prizes received in contests of various kinds.

The salaries of Federal officers and employees are subject to tax, including the salary of the President of the United States and judges of courts of the United States taking office after the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1932, which was June 6, 1932. The salary of the Vice President of the United States and the salaries of members of the house of representatives and the members of the United States senate are also subject to income tax.

GROCCERS ENJOY ANNUAL BANQUET TUESDAY NIGHT

ciation was introduced and brought greetings from the Ohio organization.

J. R. MacKenzie of Beaver Falls, formerly of New Castle; S. E. West and V. O. Potter, past presidents of the Lawrence county association, were introduced by the toastmaster. The program continued with appropriate addresses by Mayor Charles E. McGrath and Judge W. Walter Braham. J. R. MacKenzie next offered two vocal selections which scored a decided hit. J. W. Rupert, new secretary, was introduced to the gathering.

Interesting addresses by James V. Loughran of Pittsburgh, state director of the Pennsylvania Grocers association, who is also affiliated with the Allegheny County Grocers association, and J. J. Crilly, also of Pittsburgh, brought to a close another successful banquet by the grocers.

During the serving of dinner, Don Potter, saxophonist; E. E. Branstetter, pianist; Ben Shulansky, violinist; Victor Huff, clarinet, and Charles Cunningham, trumpet, offered a number of melodious selections. "Red" Williams was the song leader.

The committee in charge of the occasion: Ray Earl, chairman; Angelo Frediani, V. O. Potter, Mrs. Patterson, Harry Urmon, S. E. West, James Colucci, George Horchler, M. G. Crisci, William Alexander, S. E. Eicholtz, George Herbert and George Brown.

If you are through sympathizing with the forgotten man, drop a tear for the other Dionne kids.

PA NEW OBSERVES

street and Waldo street, take the orchids when it comes to sled riding. The youngsters hie to the top of Phillips Hill, adjacent the New Castle hospital, East Reynolds street, Bleakley avenue hill, and Phillips street hill, every day by the dozens for their daily rides. Some even dare the traffic of East Long avenue hill.

A group of bystanders, chatting in a store room entrance on East Washington street, were greatly amused when a large new car refused to start. Along came another motorist who cuddled in an old modeled vehicle, stepped on the starter and went on his way. The big car had to be pushed before it started.

While a South Side merchant was trying to figure out some way to heat his store so that he could keep himself warm yesterday, a New York state man was endeavoring to sell the merchant seeds for next spring.

Take it from Pa News, some of the downtown alleys are treacherous to walk through these icy days. Pa News saw two girls suffer painful falls just yesterday.

Nowadays, you don't see many small numbers on Pennsylvania license tags as a result of Governor Earle's new policy. Pa News believes the number 16 is the lowest of any state tags he has seen this year. He saw it yesterday. The letters "BF" were on one side of the plates and the word Maine was along the bottom.

Many New Castle automobile drivers today were to receive the application forms for their 1936 operator's card because a batch arrived with incoming mails at the post office yesterday afternoon. From now on until the middle of February they'll be coming. The new cards take effect March 1.

The Clark home next door to the Federal building is to be wrecked as soon as Postmaster Richard A. Steen hears from Washington. He has sought permission to raze it and must await an OK.

That force of census-takers employed to check business statistics for the government here is doing an excellent job, in fact, they'll soon find their work completed. In other counties the progress of the enumerators has not been so rapid, according to reports.

Boy Scout Week comes early in February and New Castle, like in the past, will observe it. The annual dinner of the Lawrence county council will take place in the First Christian church on Friday evening, February 7.

Out on the rural mail routes the traveling for the carriers is easier now, the post office reports. For several days certain of the postmen found impassable the roads over which they are routed. Bad weather was found and the mails taken through each and every day.

Home owners these days are talking more about how their coal has evaporated in the bins during the winter than about the Townsend plan or anything else. There's a lot in what they say, too!

Pa News observed a couple of youngsters with a home made sled on South street this morning, which had been made by nailing several slats across two boards. They were just as happy with it as if it had cost ten dollars.

City motor mechanic Chris Walker and Fireman Perry E. McFarland left this morning about 7:30 with the Pirsch truck from Central station, bound for Kenosha, Wis., where the truck damaged in an accident Monday morning, will be repaired.

It is expected that the work will be completed in a few days and the two men will bring it back here when completed.

The old Fourth ward truck, which was moved to Central station as an auxiliary truck, will be used to answer minor alarms from Central station until the Pirsch truck comes back.

league would be regarded as "hostile" primarily because of its effect on the civilian population.

Such essential services as the operation of ambulances, doctors' cars, and even fire engines, the spokesmen pointed out, might be halted by an oil embargo and the domestic population subjected to intense hardship long before the fuel ban brought about the league's purpose—to render an "aggressive" war impossible.

Meanwhile, according to Italian official sources, development of Italian oil sources is progressively extracting the teeth of the possible embargo.

Bank May Be Named Deputy Tax Collector

City Council Taking Action To Meet Tie-up Over Treasurer's Bond

During council meeting at city hall today Finance Director James L. Fink introduced a bill, which if adopted, will result in a national or state bank or trust company here being designated as a deputy collector of city taxes. The measure was reported from committee with a favorable report and will be called up for third and final reading Monday.

Council took this move today to protect City Treasurer C. C. McKibben from being declared ineligible to serve as treasurer and tax collector, because under the law he must qualify by February 5 or be declared ineligible.

McKibben has accepted a bond in the amount of $30,000, but council has refused to approve the payment of a premium amounting to $2,046. When McKibben presented the bond council deemed the premium unreasonable and advertised for bids. Both bids received asked a similar premium.

Council did not award a contract and decided today upon a bill prepared by auditor Robert White and which was introduced by Finance Director Fink.

Under the provisions of the bill citizens will pay their taxes at a bank or trust company, yet to be named by McKibben. Some of the banks now employed in his office will be assigned to work at the bank.

eph E. Ragan today told a coroner's jury of the feud, and its strange background, which led to the felonious murder of Richard Loeb, co-slayer of Bobby Franks, at Stateville prison yesterday.

The warden was called as the first witness in the inquest convened by Coroner E. A. Kingston to investigate the slaying behind prison walls during a quarrel between Loeb and James Day, a fellow convict, who slashed the Chicago slayer six times with an old fashioned razor.

The inquest opened with rumors that an exhaustive investigation of the prison rule would result from the killing.

After being asked a series of perfunctory questions, Warden Ragan testified bluntly that Day told him the killing occurred when Loeb attempted to patch up their broken friendship when the two met in a prison bath room. He continued:

"Day said Loeb had a razor and started towards him. Day said he kicked Loeb in the groin, seized the razor and slashed at him as Loeb ran out of the room."

JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 29.—The sordid slaying of Richard Loeb, scion of a wealthy Chicago family and co-author of one of the most sensational murders in the nation's criminal history, was the subject of a triple investigation here today. Loeb, literally slashed to ribbons by an old-fashioned straight-edge razor wielded by a fellow prisoner in the Stateville penitentiary near here, died in the prison hospital late yesterday.

There were 56 slashes from one inch to two feet long on the body of the 24-year-old Chicago slayer, who murdered little Bobby Franks, a "perfect crime," committed for a "thrill" May 21, 1934.

The man who hid the ferocious cutting, James Day, 23, a Chicagoan serving a one to ten years sentence for grand larceny, declared today he acted in self-defense after wrestling the razor, stolen from the prison barber shop, from Loeb.

Dickie Loeb and Nathan Leopold, his partner in the brutal murder of Bobby Franks, saved from the gallows by the dramatic eloquence of the veteran criminal lawyer, Clarence Darrow, were serving terms of 99 years for kidnapping for ransom, and of life for murder.

Safety Education Program Planned

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—Preliminary plans were under way today for a safety education program to be instituted in hundreds of high schools throughout the state during the coming year.

Steps to launch the program were taken at a meeting sponsored by the department of public instruction and revenue and attended by representatives of 14 Pennsylvania high schools, including those of Reading, West Chester, Waynesboro, Swarthmore, Allentown, Lancaster, Harrisburg and Lewistown.

The course of study will be started experimentally next week. During the summer results of the experiments will be summarized and a program to expand the classes into other schools adopted.

Bridgeville Man Fatally Stricken

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29.—Robert McMillan, burgess of Bridgeville and a county detective for 27 years, dropped dead in the courthouse here today. He was 73 and had been mentioned recently for a pension.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Jessie Lingle.
Word of the sudden death of Mrs. Jessie Lingle was received yesterday as quite a shock to her relatives in New Castle. Mrs. Lingle died yesterday in the Johnstown, Pa. hospital.

The bereaved relatives who reside in New Castle are the following cousins: Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Glitch, Mrs. Ben McGee, Harry Glitch, Alvi Glitch, Lewis Glitch, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Glitch of Cleveland, O. also survive the deceased.

Funeral services, it was announced today, will be held from her home at 514 Pine street in Johnstown, on Friday afternoon of this week, at 2 o'clock.

Bert McMahon Funeral.
Funeral services for Bert A. McMahon were conducted at the home of his sister, Mrs. Bertha Taylor, Enon Valley, at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Rev. E. C. Durbin of the Enon Valley Christian church was in charge, assisted by Rev. C. K. McGeorge, D. D., of the Second U. P. church, New Castle, a nephew of the deceased.

Relatives served as pallbearers and interment was made in the cemetery at Beaver.

Joseph H. Wilson.
Joseph H. Wilson, an elderly resident of Petersburg, O., died there early this morning, according to word received by New Castle friends and relatives. The funeral arrangements have not been announced as yet.

Mr. Wilson, son of Craig B. and Elizabeth Pontius Wilson, deceased, is survived by two sisters, Nancy and Edith, at home; and one brother, Frank, in Alaska. He was single.

James Minter Funeral.
Funeral rites for James Minter, of Neshannock avenue, took place in the Book-Leyde mortuary Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev. Paul D. McCracken, pastor of the Rose Point Reformed Presbyterian church, in charge.

Two songs, "Rock of Ages" and "Abide With Me," were beautifully sung by Mrs. Anna Jamison, Mrs. and Mrs. W. E. Harris and D. S. Williams, accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Lukart.

Pallbearers were W. J. Porter, W. F. Johnson, Henry Wilson, James Shaffer, Edward Evans and W. G. Edwards. Interment was made in Rose Point Reformed Presbyterian cemetery.

George Sander Funeral.
Funeral services for George Sander took place at the family residence on North Beaver street at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon, in charge of Rev. A. M. Stump, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church.

The pallbearers were John Lang, George Paul, Steve Hommer, George Anthony, Harry Evans and John Jones. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

Interment Made Here.
The body of Mrs. Sarah M. Woods, widow of Frank Woods of Lockhaven, Pa., was interred in the Luther Woods family lot in Oak Park cemetery this morning at 11 o'clock. Funeral services had been conducted at Lockhaven.

'Cuf Links' Group To Meet Thursday

Will Be Guests Of President At White House On His Birthday

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—While the whole nation prepared to observe President Roosevelt's 54th birthday tomorrow, through 7,000 birthday balls for charity, the old "cuff links" crowd was arranging a little celebration of its own to be held at the White House.

The "cuff links" crowd, so called because each of the men in the group wear cuff links presented them by the president, first came together in 1920 when Mr. Roosevelt was assistant secretary of the navy and then became Democratic candidate for vice president.

Each year since, they have met with the president on his birthday up to the last two years and have staged a little gridiron dinner of their own.

Because of the illness of Louis Howe, the president's chief secretary, no get-together was held in 1934 or 1935. Tomorrow night the dinner will be resumed with the president and Mrs. Roosevelt as hosts but no stunts will be attempted.

Before dinner, a trip will be made by the group to the Naval Hospital to pay a call on Howe.

Actual Combat Training Order Given To Army

Orders Demand More Time Be Given To Preparation For Fighting

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1936, By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Orders have been issued to the army to devote more time to the training of the armed forces for actual fighting.

These orders, contained in a training directive for the 1936-37 year, have been sent by the War Department to all corps area commanders. They will be passed on by the corps area commanders to the commanders of all army posts and stations.

Directing that more time be devoted to the training of basic combat units, the orders state:

General Objective.
"In general, the training objective is to produce units prepared to take the field on short notice at existing strength in order to execute current defense plans or to conduct combined operation against an enemy equipped with modern means of action. With this object in view, training will emphasize:

"A—The conduct of tactical problems on the terrain by basic combat units.

"B—The development of teamwork in operations of combined arms, particularly in night operations.

"C—The employment of coordinated artillery and infantry fire in close support of infantry and mechanized forces.

"D—The defense against aircraft, chemicals and armored vehicles.

As soon as basic duties are mastered, a diversification in the individual training is desired, especially in the use of various weapons in the regiment. Combat fire and conduct of fire will be emphasized.

"More time will be devoted to the training of the basic combat units on the terrain."

Bernice Wheeler Sues For Divorce

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—After a separation of four years, Mrs. Bernice Wheeler today had on file suit for divorce from Bert Wheeler, famous comedian.

The former Texas Guinan girl who married the actor eight years ago following a vaudeville tour, asks custody of their daughter, Patricia, 6. With the filing of the papers, Hollywood rumor has linked the comedian's name with that of Sally Haines, motion picture actress.

Pittsburgh Woman Reports Robbery

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29.—While bathing at her home, Mrs. Clarence Sullivan was robbed of a $450 diamond ring and a $30 watch, she reported to police today. She said a roofer, Harry Frieland, declared he saw a negro run out the front door while she was in the bath tub.

JAMESON ALUMNAE ELECTS OFFICERS

Monday evening, January 27, a meeting of the Alumnae of the Jameson Memorial hospital was held in the Solarium of the institution, for the annual election of officers. Sessions are held regularly the last Monday of the month, and at this session, much enthusiasm was registered among the thirty-five graduate nurses in attendance.

During the business procedure, Mrs. Irene Casillo was elected president and, others named for the ensuing year, are as follows: vice-president, Betty Blackford; treasurer, Gertrude Thompson; secretary, Grace Parker; board of directors, Mrs. Alice Brunswick, Mrs. Louise Isaac, Elizabeth Taylor and Tillie Sobek.

It was decided that this assembly would be identified from now on, as the Jameson-Shenango Alumnae association. They discussed a number of future activities, and a unanimous vote was taken, that they join the Pennsylvania State Nurses association. Another project that created interest, was the instituting of a journal club in connection with the American Journal of Nursing, which was formed.

A busy calendar is being mapped out by committees and officers of the organization, which promises much in the way of various activities, during 1936. Their next regular meeting is scheduled for Monday, February 24, in the Solarium.

1932 Club

Mrs. Leulla Dempsey, of County Line street, entertained the members of the 1932 club in her home Wednesday afternoon. Four tables of 500 were in play during the afternoon and high score trophies were carried off by Mrs. Robert Clarke and Mrs. C. M. Pugh.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Earl Waddington, Highland Place. This will be in the form of a tureen dinner which will be served at 12 o'clock noon.

FIELD CLUB STUNT PARTIES LAUNCHED

The first of a new series of stunt programs was launched at the New Castle Field Club Tuesday evening and proved most interesting and a decided success.

It took the form of an "Old Time Revue" of the dances popular a quarter of a century ago. In this group included the old-time square number, the quadrille, minuets, old Virginia reels, cotillions, quadrilles, do-de-deos and waltzes. A splendid orchestra provided appropriate tunes and a prompter kept the crowds moving along. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed and was marked by an exceptionally large attendance. J. L. Matthews presided as host.

Thursday evening the men will gather for a stag affair in their club, featured with a smoker and the usual round of entertainment. Lunch will be served.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR DENNIS McNAMARA

As a farewell party for Dennis McNamara who is leaving soon to take up residence in Florida, Miss Mary Jane McGary entertained members of the Suburban club in her home at 711 Cumberland avenue, Tuesday night. Miss McGary proved herself a most charming hostess.

The evening hours were featured with dancing and games, and various other unique forms of entertainment. A short business session was conducted, at which time plans were made for the next meeting of the club, the time and place to be announced later.

At a suitable time 22 guests gathered around a very elaborately decorated table to receive dainty refreshments which were served by the hostess. House decorations were carried out in a color scheme appropriate to the Valentine season. To climax the evening, all of the guests bid Dennis McNamara a hearty farewell.

Birthday Party.

A young folks' party was held recently at the home of Agnes Gonda in honor of her birthday. The honoree received lovely gifts and the group had a happy evening playing games until luncheon time. A tasty menu was served by the Misses Helen Duda, Anna Swarney and Margaret Gonda.

SHARE ANNIVERSARY HONORS AT DINNER

It is a rare occasion when two persons of the same organization celebrate their silver wedding anniversary, and so it was with Mrs. Daniel Richards and Mrs. Albert Jones, Tuesday evening, who at that time entertained in the social rooms of the First Congregational church members of the Willing Workers class.

The affair was fittingly observed with the serving of a full course dinner at 6 o'clock, the large table being cleverly decorated in tones of silver and white. A wedding cake adorned the center. In addition to the class membership, they had two special guests, Mrs. Charles Moore of Wampum and Mrs. Amy Wink of the seventh ward. Hostesses were assisted by Mrs. John Dugan and Isabelle Price with the menu.

A period of games ensued, prizes falling to Mrs. Owen Thomas and Mrs. Daniel Hughes. Other informal diversions interested those not competing in the program of contests.

The next regular meeting is slated for Thursday evening, January 30, with Mrs. Reese Price, Beckford street.

BORDEN CLASS HAS DINNER PROGRAM

As merry a group as was bent on having a good time socially Tuesday evening, consisted of congenial members of the George R. Borden class of the First M. E. church who enjoyed a dinner at 6:30 followed by a program which was a scream from beginning to end.

Covers were arranged for 31 guests at long table decorated with a floral arrangement of red roses and heather.

After appeasing the "inner man" the group settled themselves for one of Major Bowes' popular amateur programs. M. R. Hornung assumed the role of the major announcing the following "acts": Mrs. Carl Miner, as a young miss from Amsterdam, played a piano solo; Mrs. M. R. Hornung and Mrs. Fennor Bright as Siamese Twins, sang a duet; C. Ed Brown seemingly mastered contraption fashioned out of a clothes horse on which was hung an assortment of bells, for it emitted a sort of musical scale at last.

A quintet dressed as hobos who sang old fashioned songs that weren't so bad for amateurs was composed of Wilbur Baer, George D. Morris, Vennor Bright, Earl Buzard and Carl Miner, with Mrs. Carl Miner at the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl F. Wright, as black face comedians, repeated a dialogue. Last but by no means least, in quantity as well as quality, was the appearance of the Dionne quintuplets. C. C. Headland was Dr. Deane, Mrs. Earl Buzard a nurse, and the quint was Mrs. Edith Hoyer, Mrs. B. F. Steinbrink, Mrs. C. C. Headland, Mrs. O. J. Sheaffer and Mrs. D. A. Carroll.

The committee for which much praise was heard last night for the excellent dinner and original entertainment was composed of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Headland, Mrs. Wendell Ball, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Hornung, Mr. and Mrs. C. Ed Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miner and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Steinbrink.

Octo Bridge Club

A meeting of the Octo Bridge club has again been postponed. The date and hostess for the next gathering will be announced.

G. A. Club

Mrs. Dave Jenkins, of Martin street, will be hostess to the G. A. club on Thursday afternoon.

YOUNG PEOPLES CHOIR ENJOY UNIQUE PARTY

Young Peoples' choir members of the First Baptist church, and their friends gathered in the Wallace avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. Garth Edmundson, organist and directress respectively, Tuesday evening, for an evening of fun and frolic. About 40 young people constituted the assemblage.

Signs played a prominent part of the evening's entertainment, and if you didn't believe in them, you were out of luck. Upon arrival, each guest assumed the role of a patient, passing through a physical test before he could join in the games.

Regardless of one's case, after several questions, were answered, each patient was administered a liberal dose of "castor oil". In some cases, an imminent operation was necessary. In spite of the fact that several patients "died" during the ordeal, a most enjoyable time ensued.

Next, the guests all gathered in a room in which folding doors were opened and a sheet was hung to serve as a screen. The doctor theory still predominated. A patient was being operated upon before your very eyes—after the minor details of administering gas had been attended to—a leg was amputated, organs were removed and so on. In the end, the patient was helped up, seemingly not any the worse for his trying experience.

Games of a great variety followed this last stunt, and lunch, meeting with the most favor of them all, was served buffet style to top off a unique evening. The committee in charge of last night's party consisted of Clyde McCready, Andrew DeLorenzo, Jesse and John McClelland, Delbert Fletcher, George Henderson and Mr. and Mrs. Edmundson.

PASTOR AND WIFE ENTERTAIN SOCIETY

Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Stough, of Winter avenue, had the Women's Missionary Society of St. John's Lutheran church at their home Tuesday evening and a program which proved of an unusually interesting nature was presented.

The event attracted a large representation of the membership and two special guests, Mrs. C. L. Melinger and Miss Mary A. Good.

An inspiring devotional period was led by Miss Emma Thompson, who had as the topic, "My Neighbor." New officers of the society were formally installed at this time and Mrs. Edna Wood, the new president, took charge of the business meeting which followed.

Plans were discussed for a mission study class, the first session of which will be conducted at the home of Miss Anna Leonhart, Maryland avenue, on Thursday, February 6. The theme will be "Women Under the Southern Cross." Plans were also made for a sauer kraut dinner Saturday evening at the church.

Mrs. Stough invited the members to the dining room where dainty refreshments were served at a lovely arranged table. The pouring was done by Mrs. C. L. Melinger and Mrs. Edna Wood.

BALDWIN "KIDS" HAVE PARTY TUESDAY NIGHT

Tuesday night's gathering of the Baldwin class in the Highland U. P. church was anything but dignified—but it was heaps of fun and that was all it was meant to be.

Members arrived dressed as school children of the red schoolhouse days, some as little boys and other as little girls. They were just as full of pranks as they could be, having had time to save up a lot of ideas, and they caused considerable trouble to their patient teacher, Mrs. D. L. Ferguson. Some were able to read and spell and add right well but there were others who had to go to the dunce's stool or stand in corners.

At recess time a lunch in small buckets was served.

It was, needless to say, a hilariously enjoyable affair. It was attended by an exceptionally large crowd.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA MEMBERS PLAN TUREEN

Mrs. Edward Grotefend and Mrs. Dean Staley were associate hostesses Tuesday evening in the home of the former on Wallace avenue to members of Alpha Gamma Delta, the occasion marking the first assemblage of the new year.

A business discussion was conducted, when plans were made for a tureen dinner to be held at the home of Gretchen Smith with Charlotte Bartlett joint hostess. The date is set for Tuesday, February 25. Other items were given consideration that will be of interest in the near future.

Card tables were set up and four tables of players competed for honors during the balance of the leisure period. Mrs. Joseph McPate was successful in carrying off the top score award.

Lunch was served as the concluding feature, the Valentine idea being cleverly carried out in all appointments.

JANUARY MEETING EAST BROOK CLUB

The weather man took pity on the East Brook Garden club Tuesday evening, tempering the elements enough to allow a moderate gathering at the home of Mrs. Paul Wil-

Mrs. John Robinson, newly elected president, was in charge of the meeting, setting in motion ideas and projects for the new year. Miss Edna Waddington was welcomed as a new member. Mrs. Vane Johns, program chairman, presented unique program notebooks, and a discussion of the season's work followed. At this time the state flower map was completed under the direction of Mrs. Johns.

Mrs. James Guthrie gave a timely talk on 1936 flower leaders of the year, with suggestions which promise to prove most helpful. Mrs. Everett Kennedy, in her paper, figuratively made lovely bouquets of winter flowers and added ways and means of producing them.

The evening's entertainment was finished with a most appropriate poem "On The Glories of the Spring Catalogues" by Mrs. J. A. Young. The hostess contributed a large part to the pleasure of the occasion by serving delicious refreshments.

On February 25, the next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Harold Allen.

MRS. PAUL BURROWS IS GIVEN FAREWELL

Mrs. Paul Burrows was given a shower of lovely handkerchiefs at a farewell party in her honor Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Vance Montgomery, Vogan street.

Guests were members of the S. of D. Girls of the Central Presbyterian church, thirty in number. Mrs. Burrows, who is leaving to make her home in Wellsburg, W. Va., was one of the first members of the society and has been one of the most active workers.

The evening was passed with games. Mrs. Montgomery served a lunch assisted by Mrs. Lowry Wilson.

Open Door Class

A tureen dinner Tuesday evening in the Third U. P. church was enjoyed by 28 members of the Open Door class. It was served at a pleasantly appointed table where the pastel tones were used in an effective manner.

A period of singing followed. Selections were given by two trios, Howard Duncan, Howard Burdett and Charles Derr, Orville Michael, Rev. Chester T. R. Yeates and Mrs. Arthur Minick. Rev. and Mrs. Yeates gave a duet number which was well received, and a quartet consisting of Mrs. Ann McConnell, Mrs. Nora Kimmel, Arthur Minick and Charles Derr, sang several pleasing numbers. Mrs. Charles Derr accompanied at the piano.

Rev. and Mrs. Chester T. R. Yeates were special guests.

Vempo Club

Assembling Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. S. F. Turk, on North Liberty street, a full attendance of Vempo club members marked the meeting as unusually enjoyable.

The customary game of cards drew attention, honors falling to Mrs. Arthur Scott and Daniel Weaver. The next meeting will be in the Weaver home on Cherry street, Tuesday of next week.

BRIDE HONORED BY E. E. E. CLUB GIRLS

On Monday evening of this week Mrs. William Patton, nee Janet McIntock, was presented with a number of lovely gifts, at a shower held for her by members of the E. E. E. club, in the home of Florence Snyder, County Line street, hostess. The hours were spent pleasantly with cards, prizes being captured by Helen Houck and Virginia Pacurar.

At a suitable time a delicious lunch was served, the appointments being in keeping with the occasion. The hostess was assisted with the menu by her mother, Mrs. Bertha M. Snyder.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Patton will be interested in learning they have taken up residence on Wallace avenue, this city.

Members of the club will be entertained at their regular meeting February 10, in the home of Helen Houck, Smithfield street.

YOUNG COUPLES HONOR HIGH SCHOOL GRADS

In the home of Jane Bryan on Morton street Tuesday evening a group of several young couples had a wonderful time at a party given in honor of Letty and Daniel Remley, who will be graduated with the mid-year class at the high school Friday night.

The group found keen enjoyment in spending "Easy Money," the title of a new game which seems to be taking social groups by storm. Dan Remley and Paul Paphenhausen turned out to be the best financiers, receiving attractive favors. The honored guests were each presented with a lovely gift from the group.

At a suitable time the hostess served an appetizing lunch, with the assistance of Marie Galbreath and Zeo Weiss.

Farewell Party

Honoring Nick Casber, of Ashland avenue, who will depart Monday for an extended visit to California, a number of guests gathered in his home at a delightful party. Tuesday night, given by his sister Marion.

Dancing and music were the popular pastimes. Anthony Casbero presented a pleasing violin selection. He was accompanied on the piano by Marion Casbero. Two vocal numbers by Herbert Stockman and Cap Farrell were thoroughly enjoyed as were tap dance presentations by Angie Leone.

At an appropriate hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. T. C. Rainey and Edith DeCarbo. Out of town guests included Betty, Harry, Anthony, Louis Ippolito, of Wampum and Webb and Jessie Chambers, of Mt. Jackson.

The honored guest received a number of gifts.

Valentine Party.

At a meeting of the Union Label league Tuesday evening, in Trades Assembly hall, a Valentine party was planned for February 11. The committee appointed consists of Miss Josephine Kirk, chairman; Mrs. Florence Fulkerson, Mrs. Frances Sheridan, Mrs. Grace Ferrell and Mrs. Mary Patterson. The affair will interest members and their friends.

Following the discussion of party arrangements, the group had an informal period of games and refreshments.

SURPRISE PARTY HONORS BIRTHDAY

Among Monday night's social activities, one of interest was the surprise birthday party given in honor of Mrs. McKelvey Porter, at her home on Ridge street.

Sixteen relatives and friends were present and very delightful evening was spent, cards and games being featured. At midnight refreshments were served by Mrs. A. A. Streib and Mrs. Bess Heckathorn, the latter being an out-of-town guest from Elizabeth, Pa.

Mrs. Porter was presented with a number of beautiful gifts as mementoes of the occasion.

America Club Party.

The sixth anniversary of America club members was celebrated Monday evening with a theatre party. Following the show at a downtown theatre, the girls enjoyed lunch at a popular soda fountain.

In three weeks the club will meet for the regular session with Mrs. A. M. Perifano, East Washington street, hostess.

Bid-A-Wee Club

The Bid-A-Wee club girls met in the home of Georgia Mae Bevan on Knox street Tuesday evening. Games were featured, prizes going to the hostess, Miss Bevan, and Iva Maxine Bevan. In serving an attractive lunch later the hostess was aided by her mother, Mrs. D. L. Bevan.

Mrs. Fred Fabian of Court street will receive the club February 11.

Ten Ivory Club

Mrs. Charles Richards, Division street, will receive members of the Ten Ivory club in her home on Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

WHO ARE THEY?

WE have already heard from the head of the Democratic National Committee that the campaign of 1936 bids fair to be a dirty one. It is to be hoped that this prediction is not verified and that the fight will be carried on as a highly ethical campaign. This is, however, almost too much to expect. There is usually a great deal of so-called mud-slinging in every campaign. The fact that one prominent political publicity man made his reputation on his alleged ability to "smear Hoover" indicates that this idea of throwing dirt is not a new one.

Already when certain unnamed types of our business men are referred to by men in high places as potential gangsters and brigands, it begins to look as though the 1936 combat is not going to be a battle of roses.

It is to be hoped, however, that if men and groups of men are to be called names that the charges will be specific. After all, there is little to be gained by generalization. If a business man or a group of men are "gangster," if a man is a "political brigand," then the people ought to know who he is. To make criticisms and hurl epithets at a class does little but bring all the men of that group under suspicion, even if the reservation is added that 90 per cent of them are guiltless.

Referring to our business men, however, it must be said in all fairness that never in the peace time history of our country was more loyal co-operation given to an administration than that accorded to the present one when its policies went into effect. The policies were set going in an atmosphere of public fear due to the nation-wide bank closing. A great deal of the policy affecting business was entirely foreign to the American idea of governmental control.

Yet the business of the country, as a whole, put its shoulder to the wheel patriotically and pushed for all its worth in an effort to get the ship of state out of the mire of depression.

It was only when wide cracks began to appear in the program, when the parts of the machine showed signs of buckling, when it became evident that billions of dollars were being expended without making a dent in the relief needs, that criticism began to grow. Then it was that men seemed definitely to realize that we were off the American track and on the road to European regimentation which might trade our American initiative for old-world bureaucracy. That these critics were right is evidenced by the decisions of the United States Supreme Court. That 9 to 0 verdict on the NRA certainly indicates that business, and the entire country as well, had a right to question what was going on. But in the meantime it must not be forgotten that when the New Deal was first put under full head of steam and demanded a chance it got such co-operation as has never been accorded by business interests in America or any other free country where freedom of thought was supposed to prevail.

By all means, if there is any minority of "gangsters" or "brigands" among our business men, even our newspaper publishers, we ought to know just who they are and what they are doing to slow up reform and prosperity in this country. The public has a right to the facts, and it is unfair that legitimate business rest under a cloud which has been conjured up for an unnamed minority.

HOME—CRIME'S WATERLOO

A Cleveland criminologist, Dr. C. W. Stone of Western Reserve university, tells us blandly that all persons are born with criminal impulses.

"It is only through education, environment, and adjustment that men lead honest lives," says the professor. "The germ of crime is almost universally present in mankind. Few people can resist temptation—if the temptation is very strong. It rests with the intellect to regulate conduct."

And that gives us an out. The home today can be fortified as never before with the proper environment, precept, and example to get emotional youth off on the right track.

Here the inherent, instinctive impulses which drive it to action can be guided. Here the first adaption to complex social organization can be started properly.

Over a period of time, consequently, the intellect is well grounded. And that means an honest citizen.

IT MEANS ONE THING

For the first time since that interesting and usually instructive institution was begun, a Literary Digest straw vote hasn't meant anything. Heretofore when its two million or so ballots have indicated the repeal of prohibition, the election of Mr. Roosevelt or approval of the New Deal (in 1933) it has been considered an accurate barometer, or reflector of popular sentiment. This year, recording a better than three-to-two disapproval of New Deal philosophies, it is baloney.

In the first place it fails to take into consideration the personal magnanimity of President Roosevelt, father of the New Deal and candidate for re-election. In the second place, the presence of the word "now" in the question, "Do you now approve the New Deal, etc.," is leading, misleading, unfair and probably reactionary.

In the third place the ballots have been sent to people who have telephones or permanent street addresses and they, of course, are one of the subservient elements in this land of the free and easy.

When you add up these and other considerations, one of which is Mr. Farley and another of which is 4.8 billion dollars, it becomes obvious that the poll indeed means nothing except that a two million more or less responsible Americans who voted in the poll, 62 per cent disapprove the New Deal as currently constituted and only 38 per cent are for it.

Repetition by counsel of the charge that the Hauptmann trial was a circus brings up the question of what's become of the old ring-master, Mr. Reilly?

FOLLOWING the House of Representatives, the Senate passed the bonus bill, 78 to 19. The House vote was 324 to 61. That 17-year fight is ended.

Now, the Treasury will print two thousand four hundred and ninety-one million dollars worth of "baby bonds;" veterans will get the bonds, the same as cash, and taxpayers will pay interest on them, nearly everybody happy. This proves the power of efficient organization.

WE ARE used to radio, roaring forever through the ether, pay no attention to distant messages, only wish we could catch sounds of long ago, still going around and around.

The orders given by Caesar as he rode without stirrups in his red shirt around the walls of Alesia would be interesting or ghastly. Khan ordering his soldiers to go into battle shouting, or Stentor in his specialty.

But, the Rev. Carroll Steagall, benevolent missionary, saving souls in the Belgian Congo, 6,000 miles away, interests everybody. He was talking through 6,000 miles to Mr. Roddy, short wave amateur in Chattanooga, when suddenly this came from the missionary:

"I must stop. Wife says driver ants attacking house."

THE DRIVER ANT of Africa, in his millions, goes straight ahead, stopping for nothing devouring everything in the way of ant food. Had the missionary and his wife not left promptly they would have been skeletons in an hour.

Sometimes the driver ants are welcome; homeowners leave and return after the ants go, to find every mouse, rat, insect, snake, in the house devoured or picked bare.

Scientists say the human race lives always more or less in danger of its more highly efficient insect enemies, but man's recent knowledge of chemistry, electricity and flying should save him.

EXPERIENCE, HUH?

Seems as though I've always been told and, probably, always heard, that "experience is the greatest teacher we have."

Well, I must have a blind spot in me, because it doesn't seem to me I've ever learned much from experience. I've learned a few things, to be sure, but most of them were merely verifications of what I already knew.

I've driven a car for years and some times I've driven too fast, more dangerously for myself than for other drivers, however. And never was arrested. . . . Until at last a traffic officer caught me, and it cost me a few dollars and some inconvenience.

Since then I haven't driven so fast. But did that experience stop me? Or is it because my car isn't as new as it was and I don't trust it as much as I did? Or because I'm a little older and getting staid?

Years ago I used to forget packages on street cars and trains and it was a great nuisance going to lost and found bureaus and getting them again—or not getting them.

I don't do that any more. Did experience teach me? Or have my hands developed some sort of muscular memory so that they reach around, from habit, whenever I leave a car or a train?

The "wise men" also say that we must gather our own experience, we cannot live by any other man's. . . . But that's not true. The other fellow's experience is not as poignant as our own mistakes. . . . How many reckless youngsters would grow to maturity if they stubbornly refused to learn from others?

No, I think that most of our experience is merely verification of what we already know. . . . And what we know requires no proof through error.

Sun sets tonight 5:14. Sun rises tomorrow 7:12.

Speaking of those old fashioned wintertime: Do you remember those "coon skin caps, big knit scarfs, pulse warmers, and ear muffs. And do you remember how you used to grease your boots with tallow or skunk oil, and set them before the open grate before you went to bed, and how nice and warm they made your feet feel in the morning. Aye, those were the good old days.

My idea of adding insult to injury is for a wife to ask Friend Husband to wipe the dishes for her after she has fed him on canned goods for supper.

Dear Fred: What keeps the movie theaters so cool in summer? STUDENT.

The movie fans, my son, the movie fans.

If there is anybody around town who has a sleigh it would prove a big attraction in a store window. Lots of children have never seen a sleigh. During the recent fall of snow an enterprising citizen tried to locate one, but couldn't. He couldn't even find a bob-sled, which recalls that the young folks used to have a mighty good time in a bob-sled. You really haven't lived if you have never experienced the pleasure of holding hands under a big quilt or Buffalo robe. There were real heroes and corn-fed girls in those days and the colder it was the better they liked it.

If he thinks the world is getting worse, it doesn't prove anything except that he doesn't care for his world.

Many a man who left college with the theory that the world had an opening for him, finds himself in the hole right now.

The late Marshall Field had a very small office boy who came to him one day with a request for an increase in wages.

"Huh," said Mr. Field, looking at him as if through a magnifying glass. "What raise do you want? How much are you getting?"

"Four dollars a week," exclaimed his employer. "Why, when I was your age I was getting only two dollars."

"Oh, well, that's different," piped the youngster. "I guess you weren't worth any more."

Hitler still grows about "war guilt." We thought it was all settled that the one to blame was Morgan.

The way they got milk for babies in Great Britain during the war is interesting and suggestive. If an adult patron of a public eating house bought a glass of milk as a beverage, he was liable to a fine of 5s, and the proprietor subjected himself to a like penalty. The result was that the death rate among infants under five years old was about one-half the rate in pre-war times. For the first time in the modern history of Britain there was milk enough for all the babies, and good milk.

We heard a woman say the other day that she had the best man in the world. A lot of women say that when their men are not around, just to make some other woman feel bad. But this woman blurted it right out in the presence of her man. He was a big strong fellow, too, and he patting that little woman on the back and smiled. You could tell by the crimson on his face that it made him feel good. It makes any man feel good to be called the best man in the world whether he deserves it or not.

A mother was trying to impress upon her son that doing one's duty was rarely pleasant, but that it should be done. And in order to prove her point she illustrated: "Look at your father. He works and works; not that he likes it, but because it is his duty. Can you imagine your father doing anything just because it was pleasant?"

"Yes, mother, I can," answered the son.

"How and when?" asked the mother.

And her gallant son answered: "When he married you, mother."

Think of this! It was considered a "tremendous reduction in letter postage" in 1945, when Congress reduced the postage on letters to five cents within 300 miles and 10 cents for greater distances!

Could I but pause, I soon would learn Love's every season in its turn.
And wisdom drawn from men long dead
Would steel my heart and stay my hand.

And so again I weep and love.

Dear Miss Markel—Please give me the rules governing "tipping the hat," specifying every occasion on which a man should show this courtesy to women?—A Budding Gentleman.

Answer—A man should raise his hat on the following occasions:

Upon meeting any woman whom he knows, whether she be a member of his immediate family (mother, wife, sister, daughter), a domestic, a very close friend or a casual business acquaintance.

When, with a companion of either sex, and passing any courtesy to her such as picking up a package she has dropped, giving her a seat or holding a door open for her, both men should raise their hats.

When addressing or being addressed by any woman, be she friend or stranger. For instance, if a strange woman approaches him on the street to ask a direction; or if a woman thanks him for such a courtesy he has shown her, he should raise his hat in acknowledgment of her thanks.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—According to the best knowledge obtainable

the answer of the Roosevelt administration to Alfred E. Smith's attack probably will be developed along these lines (the exact words depending largely on the speakers giving them).

"Nature and economic calamities do not recognize state lines.

"Can the farm problem be solved as a state issue? We wish it could. But farm production, unless handled as a national problem will bring on a national price collapse that would affect the businesses of Liberty leaguers as well as others.

"You may well say as Secretary of Agriculture, Henry A. Wallace has said, that restriction of crops is not the best way. He has pointed out two other ways—equally attacked: (1) Reduction of tariffs so that other nations can exchange their goods for our crops; (2) more equal distribution of earnings so that purchases of such goods as wheat and corn, which would call the latter 'arraying class against class.'"

"As for relief—we are trying to make that a state issue. And the states are demanding that we do not. They say that the welfare of the people is a national problem. Your own state of New York and your own city of New York are getting more federal money than any other communities.

"Actually, what the Liberty leaguers believe you mean when you plead for state's rights is the nullification of all the laws that restrict Big Business—most of which is too powerful for an individual state to regulate. Some of the chief supporters of the Liberty league control those giant corporations. Do you desire us to name names, Al? You, yourself, used to denounce such fellows.

"In other words, Al, your plan amounts to one way of thinking, would make the people dependent for their welfare, not on the state, but on the large corporations. The government's task simply would be to pattern laws and expenditures to increase the business of the large corporations, which in turn would employ such persons as they could at such hours and wages that they could.

BOUNTIES

"You say you are opposed to all bounties. Well, strange to say, so is this administration. It desires opportunities opened to all so that there will be no necessary bounty at such hours and wages that they could.

"You talk of bounties to farmers, to labor, to others. But do you not forget one bounty, a bounty which has lasted for generations and which has enriched our class immensely? We speak of the tariff.

"You speak of 'hidden taxes on the great mass of people. Is that not a hidden tax?"

WELFARE MEASURES

"You tell of your fight for welfare measures. Yes, Al, you did a great job in those days. You will recall that you had to use strong pressure on the legislature, that you denounced selfish business interests. Even the courts were used against you. But you won out. That was splendid. Al—New York owes a great debt to you. But, Al, weren't you somewhat of a dictator in those days? And didn't lawyers say you were passing unconstitutional laws?"

"Now you say we are defying the Divine Power and the constitution and are in league with Moscow with our social welfare and economic program. You tell us we ought to approach the problems in a proper manner, through constitutional amendment. We are perfectly willing. New Dealers have been urging the states to ratify the child labor amendment for nine years—and you have done more than anybody else to prevent its ratification in New York state.

"In the meantime, in an emergency, even you might make the error of believing that congress has the right to pass laws to ease a crisis.

MASS APPEAL

"Al, your speech was an emotional plea to the masses which seemed to infer that the Deity was opposed to the New Deal because the Supreme court had thrown out New Deal laws. Al, because the Supreme court had nullified New Deal laws, the administration was trying to wreck the constitution, which you cleverly wove in along with the Bible and Divine justice.

"Deep down in your heart, Al, you know we're not trying to override the constitution. The laws we devise may be wrong, but we're trying to restore order to the present system. If we didn't—well, then, we should have what you fear."

JEFFERSON

"You shout that you will follow Thomas Jefferson, founder of the Democratic party, not us. We hope you do, Al. Perhaps you do not know that Jefferson said: 'If the U. S. supreme court can declare an act of congress null and void, then indeed is our constitution a complete telo de se (legally, a suicide). For, intending to establish three departments, co-ordinate and independent, that they might check and balance one another, it (the supreme court) has given, according to this opinion (the first nullification of a law by Chief Justice Marshall), to one of them alone the right to prescribe rules for the government of others, and to that one, too, which is unelected by and independent of the nation."

Jefferson continued: "The constitution, on this hypothesis, is a mere thing of wax in the hands of the judiciary which they may twist and shape into any form they please. It should be remembered, as an axiom of eternal truth in politics that whatever power in any government is independent is absolute also."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NO DOUBT OF IT

The New York Sun tells of a watchman for the Central Railroad at a New Jersey crossing who has acquired the reputation of a Baron Munchausen among his friends, despite his tearful pleas that he is telling the truth.

One day, he said, several ears of corn fell from a passing freight car and were immediately attacked by a flock of sparrows. For a time the birds were baffled; they couldn't appease their appetites because the kernels were too large to swallow.

So, swears the railroader, each of the sparrows placed a kernel on the track and waited patiently for the next train, which pulverized the grain to their liking.

But none will believe him, and some day he's going to get some corn and try to get the sparrows to put on their act for him.

Capital Views Republican Race

Analyze Field Of Candidates Seeking Presidential Nomination

LONDON HEADS
FIELD AT PRESENT

Central Press
Washington Bureau
1900 S Street
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Governor Alf Landon, of Kansas, still seems to me, judging from chats with many influential Republicans, to lead the field for the G. O. P. presidential nomination.

If he leads it, he leads it by only a nose, however. Senator William E. Borah is right after him, and Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, follows closely.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg is regarded as the likeliest compromise, if the foremost trio offset one another. But there are those who say that Senator L. J. Dickinson has certain claims to consideration, as the most consistent anti-New Dealer in congress. Few Republican politicians like to recognize former President Hoover as a possible choice. Others, mentioned earlier in the pre-convention, campaign, now seldom are referred to.

NOT ENOUGH—YET

G. O. P. calculators reckon that, with good management, their party can carry all of New England, New Jersey and Delaware. They count on Pennsylvania as still more emphatically in the bag. They rate New York, Ohio and Indiana as 50-50; Michigan as safely Republican.

This isn't enough; the farther west must be fearfully broken into, even if the Republican candidate swings all of the doubtful more easterly states.

Strategists agree that Borah would be as strong a standard bearer as could be picked, as to the west, but they are afraid the east wouldn't take to him—New York particularly; probably Jersey, Delaware and Massachusetts. The truth is that he isn't so very radical, but he has that reputation. Besides, his age!—past 70.

LONDON WOULD PLEASE
Landon is the kind of business man who wouldn't alarm the east, and yet should please the farm belt. He is under 60.

Already there is Democratic talk of "smearing" him as an oil plutocrat, but it will be easy to prove that he was an independent, who fought the big companies. The big companies are not, indeed, especially enamored of him as a presidential aspirant, but I have it from authoritative oil sources that they would not actively oppose him.

It is charged against him that his radio voice is poor, but he and his family film well—a lovely little household, an attractive Mrs. Landon, likable children.

He has an "edge" undoubtedly, which is not, however, the same thing as the nomination. The governor's chief campaign adviser, by the way, is said to be one "Dutch" Schultz (I may spell his name incorrectly, for he is unknown in Washington), described as political writer for the Topeka Journal, and apparently he is a very individual.

KNOX A GOOD POLITICIAN
Colonel Knox evidently is a good politician.

It is hard to explain his prominence in the race otherwise, for his popular appeal is inconsiderable.

One doesn't hear him much talked about by the rank and file of folk; nevertheless party managers by no means pooh-pooh him. He assuredly will enter the June convention with a sizable block of delegate strength behind him, and the general impression is that he can command a deal of campaign money, which party leaderships look on very respectfully.

From all accounts he has an effective personality, if he can get it into action, but he needs more advertising. Can he get it fast enough? That's a question.

Senator Vandenberg, as a compromise, is at the advantage of having said nothing that can give offense to anyone.

He has said nothing to hurt Landon's feelings, nothing to hurt

Borah's, and nothing to hurt Knox's. He isn't radical enough to alarm any ordinary conservative; he is so far liberal that Borah might support him.

That is where he differs from Senator Dickinson.

Dickinson has fought every New Deal proposition—even some which have been rather popular with his Iowa constituency.

Borah is not so consistently an anti-New Dealer, much less Vandenberg.

Landon and Knox, not being in national public life, are not on record, but Dickinson is, unquestionably.

HAIR on LIPS

Made Invisible with Oxygen
Thousands who formerly suffered the embarrassment of ugly hair on lips, chin and other parts of the face, now use Dioxygen Cream and have a skin lovely to look at and lovely to feel.

Oxygen is nature's safe bleach. It is not drying to the skin. The fact that Dioxygen Cream actually makes face hair invisible shows that it really does things which ordinary creams cannot do. Dioxygen Cream clears out the pores, refines coarseness, tightens spots and breaks up the greasy substances that cause blackheads.

Start using Dioxygen Cream and within 24 hours you'll see a surprising improvement in your skin. Within 30 days you'll have the kind of complexion you've always dreamed about. Sold at 50¢ and $1 by dept. stores and druggists.

My New York
By James Aswell

Copyright, 1936, Central Press Association

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—"Round and Round": Witchcraft flourishes in many Manhattan sectors and occasionally rears its head in the public prints. There was the case the other day of the Italian lady in East 97th street (which, by the way, is one of those rags-to-riches thoroughfares, with breathlessly expensive apartments elbowing dingy tenements) who for years had been paying large sums out of her modest savings to a non-existent witch described by a chiseling friend as "Aunt Josephine who lives on a mountain in the Bronx."... More remarkable than the lady's credulity was the fact that, until she made the long journey downtown to court, she had never been more than five blocks from her home in the twenty odd years since she came to America.... There are thousands like her in town, to whom Times Square and its razzle-dazzle is only a rumor, probably apocryphal; the Battery is another country, dimly remembered, past which they voyaged toward a new home....

Scott Fitzgerald's confessional in the current "Esquire," called "Crackup" is the most engrossing of the stories of personal disaster which are becoming the vogue.... Willie Seabrook heightened the fad with his swashbanging account of his cure for alcoholism undergone in a large institution and many another scribbler is cashing in with revelations of his own, in the De Quincey "Memoirs of an Opium Eater" manner.... But Fitzgerald's truly disturbing piece, more sincere and serious than any account of a tilt with mere boozing could be, is even more distressing because it was written by the man who, in all American literature has the greatest natural talent.... In New York the worst phobia which can assail sensitive folk is the slow growth of a hatred for crowds.... I have had days when the sight of a subway kiosk would fill me with physical nausea and even the picture of a group of blind, expectant faces in a magazine could spoil a morning....

A friend called the other day fresh from the wedding of Stefan Hero and Maria Turbi (whose pop is the Spanish pianist and conductor).... Thus another answer to the question—what becomes of child prodigies?—was in part supplied.... Stefan Hero, in case you have forgotten, was the seven days' wonder in musical circles four or five years ago as a boy violinist.... With less expansive dreams now, he hopes only for a good job in an orchestra, a steady salary and a home which in time may be populated with little Heroes and Heroines.... Lucky are the child prodigies, once they have been through the publicity and adulation mills, who can settle down into normal life.... I knew one lad, hailed years ago as the greatest six-year-old mathematician in the history of the world (or was it in the history of the Bronx?) who took to counting his own pores and was in dire danger of entering the basket-weaving class the last I heard.... I am an admirer of that twinkling little girl, Shirley Temple, and yet, of all little girls in America, I feel sorriest for and most alarmed about her when the future is considered....

Oh yes, I forgot to mention recently when I was writing about "Ethan Frome," the new play, that Edith Wharton, the author of the story from which it was adapted, remains one American expatriate who refuses to come home.... Most of the writers who fled to Europe in the daffy Twenties are sneaking back nowadays, but Mrs. Wharton remains firmly ensconced in her imposing Pavillion Colombe, eighty miles from Paris.... The chateau, a magnificent pile erected for Marie Colombe, the dance sensation of the last century, is filled with dour butlers and immaculate grooms.... In it Mrs. Wharton lives a life of sybaritic grandeur and formality; even the formal French aristocrats are slightly awed by her upstagness....

AROUND CITY HALL

In an opinion handed down in the Dauphin county court, Judge Frank B. Wickersham has dismissed the bill of complaint of the Independent Coal Dealers' Protective association and Alexander Samec, Minersville, against Thomas A. Logue, secretary of internal affairs, Charles J. Margiotti, attorney-general and Charles S. Sands, deputy inspector of weights and measures in the department of internal affairs, to restrain them from enforcing the provisions of the Weighmaster's act of 1935. The action entered by the plaintiffs on the Equity docket sought "to enjoin the defendants from bringing any action against the plaintiff, from making arrests or in any way interfering with Samec or other persons engaged in the business of hauling solid fuel into Philadelphia; from issuing licenses to inspectors and Weighmasters as officers having authority to issue correct weight certificates; and from carrying into effect or enforcing any of the provisions of an act approved July 19, 1935."

Committees working on uniform budget forms for the counties, third class cities, first class townships and poor districts have completed their efforts, according to the state department of internal affairs. The report says that it was pleasing to see the cooperation and the desire to bring about results beneficial to the various subdivisions of the commonwealth. The committees will continue to function and it is probable that from time to time some changes or amendments to the laws may be made. "It is not the intention of the department of internal affairs to interfere in local government" the report states. "Local officials know much better the needs and wants of their communities; local officials have a closer and more intimate touch with conditions existing and in most instances are able, honest and competent public officials. The department in the monthly bulletin reports "It is not the purpose of the department to make any move to weaken local government, but it is the earnest desire to aid and assist in the improvement of local government, so that it will be fortified and continue undisturbed in the future." Earl Wimer, local controller, is a member of the state board who helped to prepare the forms for making out Third class cities budget forms. The 1936 budget for New Castle was not made out according to the law. So much difficulty was faced that it first was made out according to the manner it heretofore had been completed then set down on the form as required by state law.

With $50,000 available for the purchase of materials for city projects to be done with WPA labor the city now can look forward to some worthwhile jobs. The best piece of work put through by the city.... Probabilities are that no important appointments will be made until March 1. All of the employees whose term of office is not fixed by state law can carry on unless it is desired to disperse with someone's services. In such a situation a resolution can be introduced by the head of a department and if adopted the person is out and someone else in.... Weather has been so bitter cold that street employees did not work Monday and only one truck operated Tuesday.... Training school for police was held here Tuesday.

Remodelling of the courtroom has not yet started.... Judging from the reports that flow into the city police station there is considerable work for the dog catcher.... New hardwood floor will probably be laid in council chambers, at city hall. The linoleum appears considerably the worse for wear.

College Receives
Gift Of 20 Books
(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 29.—Westminster College received recently 20 books as a gift from the Brookings Institution of Washington, D. C.

Each of the books is the history and development of some government service bureau, its functions, organization, character of plant, and financial data. Studies include such bureaus as immigration, internal revenue, standards, and other important groups.

The Brookings Institution conducts impartial investigations to secure facts on current economic problems, later to be given to the public.

The books will be placed at the disposal of the classes in social sciences at the college, according to Dean A. C. Burr.

HARDBOILED COP

IS ON WAY OUT

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 29.—The hard-boiled cop who must show it by braggadocio is on his way out here.

The Citizens' Survey Committee recommends re-qualification of officers on the basis of ability and general intelligence rather than on that of mere physical strength.

The committee also suggests fixing responsibility to eliminate the practice of "passing the buck" and establishment of a training course for police officers of all ranks, beginning with a six-months preparatory course at the municipal university.

PREVENT FREEZING PIPES AND BURST PLUMBING

Here's How—

On bitter nights when your house becomes cold and fires are low, turn on a faucet leading from each pipe which is most susceptible to low temperatures. A flow at the rate of a quart a minute will do. This will cost but a few cents a night and may save dollars in damages and repair bills.

Hadassah Thrift Luncheon Outstanding And Successful

Serving a double purpose, first providing a nice sum to help finance the new Hadassah building, and second, furnishing a delightful afternoon with decidedly worthwhile talks by prominent speakers, featured the second annual Thrift Luncheon sponsored by the Hadassah chapter, Tuesday, in the Cosmo club.

Covers were laid for upwards of 100 women, at two long tables in the clubrooms, the places being marked with clever little favors in blue and white, which held the afternoon's program. These were the handwork of Mrs. Irvin Grossman.

Mrs. L. Groden extended the president's welcome and greetings, and Mrs. Charles Levine, as chairman of the luncheon fund, followed, outlining the values of this important activity. After the invocation by Rabbi Pinchos Katz, a tasty menu was served by the hostesses who wore the headpiece of Palestinian purses, a white band with the blue star of David in the center. Hostesses were Mrs. David Victor, Mrs. Raffel, Mrs. Charles Levine, Mrs. Jack Leiby, Mrs. Ted Marlin, Mrs. J. Rosen, Mrs. Nate Love, Mrs. Lew Miller, Mrs. L. Reinhardt, Mrs. Sam Levine, Mrs. J. Saul and Mrs. Gus Slovinsky.

Introduced as toastmistress, Mrs. Louis Sandler announced an original song by Mrs. M. Schoenberg, which was a parody on the popular melody, "Did You Ever See A Dream Walking." It brought out the luncheon theme of Hadassah's endeavor to do its part in furnishing wholesome school lunches with cheer, to the some 4,800 undernourished children daily in Palestine.

Mrs. Morris Abramowitz, of Detroit, a visitor in the home of her sister, Mrs. J. Kulkin, on Boyles avenue, sang the song as a solo, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. L. Reinhardt, the assembly joining in a repetition.

Rabbi Norman Diamond was the first speaker on the program, his subject being "The Comparative Value of Religion and Nationalism, Historically Considered." Rabbi Diamond traced the influences in Jewish history which have been the main factors in unifying the Jewish people from the earliest times, beginning with Adam. He spoke of religion as being the relationship between God and man, tracing the spiritual relationship from Adam's time to Noah's, through Moses, and then into the period of the first kingdom, the period of dispersion, Kaplan. Led by Rabbi Katz, the program was concluded with assembly singing of two other favorite melodies, "Shalom Olechem" and "Hatikva."

Regret was expressed that Rabbi H. Leon Schwartz, of Beth Shalom Center, was unable to be present yesterday, due to illness.

Great credit reflects upon the committee which managed yesterday's outstanding event, this being composed of Mrs. Charles Levine, chairman, Mrs. L. Reinhardt, Mrs. J. Grossman, Mrs. D. Tobin, Mrs. B. Moresky, Mrs. S. Edelstein, Mrs. Nate Ginsberg, Mrs. L. F. Kohn, Mrs. A. Fisher and Mrs. J. Levine.

Among the guests were Mrs. L. Broide, one of the active workers of the Oil City chapter, Hadassah, and Mrs. S. Zuckerman, of Butler.

DELPHIANS STUDY ROOTS OF CULTURE

For the seventh consecutive season, the Delphian Society launched its new work at the meeting in the Castleton Tuesday afternoon. "Roots of Culture" was the theme of the program with the following phases discussed by several of the members.

"The Growth of Culture" was outlined by the president, Mrs. W. A. Pond; "The Three Epochs of Prehistoric Life," Mrs. Charles T. Metzler; "Discovery of Fire," Mrs. H. D. Harlan; "Primitive Homes," Mrs. Luella Brownlee; "Development of Food Plant," Mrs. Harry Marshall; "Domestication of Animals," Mrs. F. E. Stough.

"Primitive Clothing was described by Mrs. C. L. Mantz; "The Discovery of Metals by Mrs. T. J. McFate; "Art and Picture Writing," Miss Sarah Knott; "The Religion of Primitive Man," Mrs. A. L. Shumaker.

A general discussion of the various topics followed, the afternoon proving one of the most beneficial as well as interesting in which the group has ever indulged.

LUNCHEON ENJOYED BY N. H. B. WOMEN

Tuesday afternoon in a local tea room, a group of women known as the N. H. B. Kensington members, assembled as the guests of Mrs. R. L. Hildebrand and Mrs. L. C. Houston, joint hostesses, for a 1 o'clock luncheon. The affair was delightfully informal and featured the Valentine motif in all appointments.

After partaking of the menu served at the prettily arranged table, tones of red and white predominating, chat and other diversions claimed attention of the eighteen women in attendance.

Their next meeting in two weeks will be with Mrs. R. J. Johnston, on Meyer avenue.

NEWLYWEDS HONORED AT PARTY LAST NIGHT

A delightful shower was given in honor of a bridal couple, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Schuller (Mary Ann Ayers) at the bride's home on Lee avenue, Tuesday evening.

After the young couple was given useful and lovely gifts, the evening was passed with various amusements and all the guests had a very enjoyable time. A delectable luncheon was served by the hostess, Mrs. D. W. Ayers, assisted by the Misses Dorothy Shumway, Evelyn Harris and Thelma Ayers.

Daughters of Union Veterans.

Tuesday night the Eliza Winans McBride Tent No. 20 of the Daughters of Union Veterans met in their hall in the city building. Mrs. Mary Kurtz, president, was in charge, and plans for a number of activities were formulated.

Cards and bingo offered entertainment afterwards, prizes for honors in 500 falling to Emmett Kurtz, Louis Sweet, Mrs. Maude Fisher and Mrs. Sadler. Bingo winners were Mrs. Minnie Kauffman and Mrs. Laura McHugh. The hostess committee served refreshments.

Tuesday, February 11, members will assemble at the same place at the usual hour.

Augusta Statzer Lodge

A good crowd attended the dinner-meeting of Augusta Statzer lodge on Monday evening, in the American Legion Home. An appetizing menu was served at the supper hour by a committee composed of Mrs. Mary Kennedy, Mrs. Carrie Logan and Mrs. Gertrude Calderwood.

The next meeting will take place on the fourth Monday of February at which time it is hoped to have a grand lodge officer present.

Mr. Roosevelt asks how a man with $5,000,000 could disappear. He might take the blame for a New Deal mistake. That always works.

NOVEL PARTY FOR 1919 KENSINGTON

One of the most enjoyable parties of the season for members of the 1919 Kensington was the occasion which took place Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Charles McClelland on Croton avenue. She entertained informally with bingo, Mrs. Lucy Covert carrying off the prize, and also bridge held attendance. Mrs. J. A. McFall was awarded the trophy for this contest.

Upon being invited to the dining room the guests were seated about a table cleverly decorated in suggestions of the valentine season. Miniature trees with numerous dainty hearts adorning the small branches, held secure in a cup arranged to represent a flower pot, were given as favors. Miss Geraldine McClelland, daughter of the hostess, served a most delicious "Chinese woodsticks" menu that delighted the participants.

In two weeks Mrs. J. A. McFall of Winter avenue will receive members.

Dr. John F. Condon

Gov. Hoffman Reasserts Belief "Jassie" Should Be Quizzed Again

(International News Service)
TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 29.—After it was reported here that Attorney General David T. Wilentz plans to meet Dr. John F. "Jassie" Condon in Florida, Gov. Harold G. Hoffman reasserted his belief today that the famous Lindbergh ransom intermediary should be subjected to new questioning.

"Dr. Condon is out of the United States," the governor said. "He cannot be effectively questioned until he returns. But he should then be questioned with a sincere desire to obtain real information."

The governor intimated that thus far Condon has been examined only in a "cream puff type of questioning."

He again cited the "many discrepancies" in the stories of the Lindbergh crime spun by Condon, who was the star witness against Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

GIRL SCOUTS

TRIOOP 16 met at the home of their captain, Mrs. E. W. Guy, Monday evening at seven o'clock.

The girls adjourned to the various scout patrol corners and discussed their country in preparation for the world knowledge badge.

They gathered together in the living room and told what they knew about their country. A test on the flags of various nations was given to them. At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Guy, assisted by some of the Scouts, served delicious refreshments.

If the weather permits next Tuesday, the meeting will be held at Walnut Glen at seven o'clock.

Scribe, Helen Stritzinger.

BLUEBONNET TROOP

Bluebonnet Troop No. 4 met at the Third U. P. church Monday evening at seven o'clock.

The evening program was opened by colors. Marjory Rapson was enrolled as a new member. The girls studied their compass work, then played games and sang songs. The meeting was closed by singing taps.

Scribe, Betty Marshall.

SAKAKAWA TROOP

The Sakakawa Troop of Girl Scouts met at Highland U. P. church at 4:15 p. m. Monday.

The meeting was opened by having patrol corners. While the younger girls studied handicraft, the older girls played observation games. T. E. Letting was closed by singing taps.

Scribe, Betty Chilton.

Radio Operator

Dies At Sea On Norwegian Ship

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—A faltering radio message from the Norwegian motorship Rose, 250 miles northwest of Midway Island, today had related the death of an unidentified radio operator at sea.

The sender obviously was unfamiliar with radio, but painstakingly transmitted the following message: "Kindly tell following to Isbrandtson-Miller New York. Wireless out of order. Operator died Saturday, heart sickness—buried today."

Meat Prices

Are Decreased

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.—Invalidation of the AAA by the supreme court has brought decreases of 12 to 22 per cent in meat prices in the Philadelphia area, the Philadelphia Retail Meat Dealers' association reported today.

Pork, which soared to pre-depression prices during the "hog control" program, has dropped as much as 22 per cent from September levels, the association revealed, while the 12 per cent decline was found in most beef products.

In Religious and

Fraternal Circles

Annual Banquet Of Master Barbers Is Enjoyable Affair

A. M. B. Of A. Local 408 Has Fine Entertainment At Club Room

The A. M. B. of A. Local 408 had an annual banquet and entertainment Monday night following the monthly business meeting in the club room.

Entertainment committee members did not go outside the association for talent, but supplied the group with three hours of splendid program presentations. Albert Candiotto and Griff Lewis played guitars and kept the crowd roaring with their comic minstrel show sketches. They also accompanied Dave Lewis in several song selections. Peter Chilton had the barbers laughing by his imitations of Pop Eye, the Sailor Man.

Finally all sat down to a table laden with steaming dishes of spaghetti and Italian sausage with all the fitting trimmings.

All voted an enthusiastic "thanks" to the entertainment committee which consisted of Dave Lewis, Joe McCaskey, Jr., and Charles Chirozzi.

Reports On Membership Drive, Baseball Team And Band, Are Made

Meeting in the Legion Home on North Jefferson street Tuesday evening the Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343, American Legion held its regular session with Commander James E. Moorhead in the chair.

Following routine business, reports were heard from chairmen of the various committees. David Tobin reported on the membership drive, A. L. Conn reported on the Legion baseball team and R. Harold Blewitt reported on the Legion band.

Following the adjournment of this meeting Attorney E. F. G. Harper spoke on Old Age Pensions and answered questions asked him by members present.

Billy Neff Gets

Fracture In Fall

Twelve-Year-Old Billy Neff Sustains Fractured Arm In Fall On Ice Near Home

Billy Neff, twelve year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Neff, Sheridan avenue, sustained a fracture of the left arm Tuesday afternoon, when he fell on the ice near his home.

The lad was crossing the street to his house, when he missed his footing and fell to the ground, receiving the painful injury. Upon being attended by a local physician, it was found to be a fracture. He is a student of Arthur McGill school.

Lawrence County In First Place In Safety Drive

Heads 67 Counties Of State In Campaign Conducted By Pennsylvania

Lawrence county occupies the proud position of first place in the 67 counties of Pennsylvania in the safety drive being conducted by the state, it was announced today. The drive has been under the auspices of the National Safety Council and all state highway employees are entered in the drive.

In the past 16 months the Lawrence county unit of the Pennsylvania state highways department has not had a single lost time accident due to the unusual safety precautions taken and the emphasis placed upon first aid work in the department here. John B. Shaw, superintendent, has insisted that all employees shall safeguard themselves at all times and his insistence upon safety in the highway work has brought Lawrence county to the position it holds.

The rank of the different counties announced today includes the record up to October, 1935. However, the local department of highways has had no lost time accidents since October so that its first place position is assured as yet.

did more than anyone else to fan the flames of independence. He is said to have been the first to use that word—in a brief letter in the Pennsylvania Magazine, Oct. 18, 1775. Independence was far from the minds of most of the colonists when Paine began his pamphlet; in fact, the New York provincial congress seriously considered public refutation of Paine's arguments!

Jan. 29, 1845.—"The Raven" was first published in a newspaper, after it had been rejected by a score of magazines! This, the most widely known American poem, was written by Edgar Allan Poe when he was 35 and fast approaching death from drink, drugs and starvation.

One Year Ago Today.—Five Italian colonial soldiers and an undetermined number of Ethiopian tribesmen, were killed in a clash at Af-dub, near Wal Wal, on the Somali-land-Ethiopian frontier. This, following upon another clash at Wal Wal six weeks previously, set off the Italian-Ethiopian embroglio.

It's True.—A species of crab found on islands in the Pacific gets its food by climbing coconut trees and breaking off the nuts which it cracks open with its claws.

The Bank of England values its banking house, furniture and equipment on its books at less than five dollars!

A California scientist, Dr. Bailey Willis, says the Earth is steadily getting hotter and eventually will become a sun.

Italian Broadcast Severely Scored

(International News Service)
LONDON, Jan. 29.—Authoritative circles today picked a new argument with Italy over a radio program broadcast from Rome January 17, in which it was claimed European officers, including Britons, are leading Ethiopian troops in battle against Italian forces.

The broadcast was described here as a "flagrant example of Italian propaganda."

In London this statement was described as "most ludicrous." It was said to have been intended as propaganda in Egypt and the Mid-East.

The World At A Glance

thing; but independent of the will of the nation is a soleism, at least in a republican government.

The writer of the Declaration of Independence was president when he made that statement. Al—and he made many similar statements.

"Perhaps every American ought to read of the life struggles of Thomas Jefferson. It might be seen that those struggles exist down to the present day. There was no more revered president than Jefferson—because he opposed the oligarchy of money."

APPLAUSE

"Did you observe, Al, that you received roars of applause from the liberty leaguers when you shouted vindictives at the New Deal? But when you spoke for the Democratic party of Jefferson and when you said you always would be a follower of that party, there wasn't much applause."

"Al, those wealthy men may be using you. You quoted Scripture, but isn't there something in the Scriptures concerning the inability of the wealthy man to go through the needle's eye? And isn't there another passage concerning the division of property prior to entering the Kingdom of Heaven?"

"And how you enjoyed speaking in those sarcastic tones of the Brain Trusters. Yes, Al, that was good—but do you remember, when you were governor of New York, you called in a considerable number of Brain Trusters, for consultation then, except they weren't called Brain Trusters then. We thought you did right—but maybe we're wrong. Maybe it would have been better to call in a few Tammany ward leaders. You wouldn't have had so much trouble later with Tammany if you had. Or was the result worth the trouble?"

POTENT ARGUMENTS

The most potent anti-Roosevelt argument Al Smith did not develop, in the view of observers. The Republicans may develop it. The progressives are certain to. That is, with all the spending, nothing has been solved.

The real fear in the Democratic camp was that Al would develop this logically. But he oversteated his case on the catch-phrase part of the New Deal record—and gave the administration talking points for an answer that evades the real issues.

stopped announcing "great victories over the Italians" to report Ethiopian troops retreating 268 miles in the north. Addis Ababa, by the way, the little city that is now Haile Selassie's capital, did not belong to him or his predecessors in Abyssinia fifty years ago.

It was one of a dozen small independent territories, easily conquered by the descendants of King Solomon, who got from the slave trade plenty of money to buy powder and bullets.

After a few more Italian victories, more of the conquered tribes may remember their ancient freedom and go over to Mussolini.

Today's news tells of Italian machine guns "killing hundreds of Ethiopians in fierce three-day fighting along the jungle front, near England's Kenya colony."

Ethiopians are helpless against modern Italian machine guns, tanks and air bombs, as were former rulers of tribes conquered by Abyssinia against powder and bullets.

The suggestion that people of Jewish descent and birth return to Palestine has not appealed to all Jews in America; other Americans would not be pleased by a suggestion that they return to Ireland, Scotland, or other points of origin. Men want opportunity.

Some might be reconciled to the Holy Land migration by the fact that Palestine is about to establish a stock exchange, a Wall Street of its own. It already has an "embryonic exchange" functioning for private banking houses, some founded by refugees from Germany.

According to building operators in the Holy Land, a stock exchange, establishing "liquidity" of securities, would be a great help.

EVERYTHING is possible; you might live to see magnificent hotels at Jaffa or Jerusalem, with "best minds" from America going over with their fortunes to "operate" as they please, without any restrictions of a new deal.

Some little trader, standing at the wrecked corner of Broad and Wall streets, might mournfully read: "Another ten million-share day on the Palestine exchange, seats selling for $2,000,000."

WILHELM HOHENZOLLERN, out of respect for the King's death and funeral, has postponed Monday's celebration of his 77th birthday until next Friday.

Apart from natural sympathy of one royalty for another, the former Kaiser owes gratitude to King George. At the war's end there was wide demand that the Kaiser be hanged, and Lloyd George was supposed to think it a good idea. But the former Kaiser, as King George's cousin, their mother and father were brother and sister, children of Queen Victoria.

A hanging would not have looked well in the royal family of England, and that may have saved the Kaiser.

THE THREE little Japanese creatures holding their hands on their eyes, ears, and mouth are no wiser than Postmaster General Farley, who will run President Roosevelt's campaign.

Mr. Farley, who doesn't smoke or drink and talks very little, says he did not hear former Gov. Smith's speech on the radio, has not read it, and will not let anybody tell him about it.

Income Tax Men To Aid Residents Here

Deputy Collector Long Now Mapping Visits To County Points

The government within a very short time will send personal representatives throughout the county to advise residents in the preparation of their 1935 income tax papers, James R. Long, deputy collector of internal revenue in the Federal building, announced today.

Mr. Long today was preparing his schedule of visits to the various districts and within a day or so will announce it.

Mr. Long and other field men of the internal revenue bureau will act as consultants at buildings which will be made known.

New Castle people will be advised as to the consultation hours at the main office here. The office is open daily at the present time.

News Briefs From City Hall

Only one person, charged with drunkenness, was lodged in jail last night. He was ordered discharged today by Mayor Charles E. McGrath.

Cement post along the post office curb was broken off sometime early Tuesday, traffic police reported to headquarters.

Automobiles driven by Charles W. Jones, North Mercer street and Webster Shirey, Butler avenue, were in a collision at Liberty street and Madison avenue yesterday.

Peter Richards, Agnew street, reported to police headquarters last night his auto skidded and struck a telephone pole at Cedar street and Mahoning avenue.

Capt. R. B. Craig Inspects Cellars

Fire Hazards In Business Section Are Being Ordered Cleaned Up

Fire Chief James E. Thomas is having an inspection of the cellars in the business district of the city made by Capt. R. B. Craig, with a view of eliminating possible fire hazards.

Where inflammable materials are found in cellars, the occupants will be asked to remove such hazards.

Two men are also on duty on the North Hill today, inspecting fire hydrants. If any are found frozen, they will be thawed out.

SHORT IN WIRING SETS FIRE TO AUTO

Firemen were called to North Mill street, just above Washington, at 11:35 this morning when a short circuit in the wiring of the car of Miss Ethel J. Moore of Glenmore boulevard burned the insulation from the wires. There was little damage resulted.

Greensburg Man Held By Police

TAKEN FROM JAIL TO PENITENTIARY

Peter DePalmo, an inmate of the county jail, was taken to the Western Penitentiary today by Deputy Sheriff Ben Hartland. DePalmo was convicted of adultery and was sentenced to the Western Penitentiary for eight months.

NEW U. S. POSTS OPEN
The United States Civil Service Commission has announced open competitive examinations for engineering materials inspector positions with salaries ranging from $2,000 to $2,800 a year. Miss Garnet Rhodes, civil service representative at the Federal Building here, has announced.

Youth Robs Citizen Who Gave Him Home

Adam Pierce Is Arrested By Sheriff Edward Pritchard
And Placed In Jail

Adam Pierce, a young man about 21 years of age, is in the county jail as a result of robbing Bert Dinsmore, who had befriended him. The young man's parents are dead and he has no home. Bert Dinsmore kindly gave him a home for several weeks. When he left a few days ago Dinsmore missed a suitcase, a suit of clothes and a violin. He told Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard of his loss yesterday afternoon, and in less than an hour the sheriff had pinned the articles he had stolen.

Sheriff Pritchard found them in a downtown pawn shop. An information charging Pierce with larceny will be made today by the sheriff before Alderman Green.

No Reports On Ethiopian War

(International News Service)
ROME, Jan. 29.—Indicating that the drive of General Rodolfo Graziani's army in southern Ethiopia had halted at least temporarily, a communication No. 109 today said: "There is nothing to report on either front."

For 1936 Driver Licenses Mailed

Secretary Kelly Advises Motorists to Prepare Applications Carefully

HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—Automobile drivers should exercise great care in filling out their applications for 1936 operators' licenses. Secretary of Revenue John B. Kelly announced as the 2,500,000 application blanks were mailed this week.
He particularly warned against making mis-statements in answering the questions on the applications as the law provides a two-year suspension of operators' privileges for failure to give correct information.
He also advised against allowing other persons to fill out the application forms as mistakes might easily be made for which the applicant would be held liable.
Each applicant must state on his blank whether his license has ever been suspended or revoked and whether he has been involved in any automobile accidents within the preceding 12 months. Drivers involved in accidents must give further particulars on the reverse side of the application.

Financial Responsibility.
Persons involved in two or more accidents within the preceding year caused at least partly by their negligence and resulting in damage claims of more than $200, those who have failed to make settlement within 15 days after final judgment of more than $200 resulting from an accident, and those who have at one time had their license revoked must furnish proof of financial responsibility before a new license will be issued.

Such proof must guarantee ability to pay up to $10,000 for personal injury in addition to $1000 for property damage. It may be in the form of a certificate showing that an operator's policy in this amount has been issued by an insurance company, a corporate surety bond or a cash deposit of $11,000 with the secretary of revenue.

On Court House Hill

Prothonotary John A. Edgar and Parole Officer Jack M. Dunlap received post cards Tuesday from former County Commissioner P. O.
Elder, who is sojourning in Mexico.
Elder says he is having a good time fishing.

Several returns of marriages performed by Justices of the peace in Lawrence county have been made recently to the prothonotary's offices in cases where the marriage licenses have been granted in other counties. Two came in this week, the licenses having been granted in Venet county, and the ceremonies having been performed in this county. Prothonotary John A. Edgar calls attention to the fact that returns of marriages by justices and aldermen must be made to the county in which the license was granted.

In the case of the Real Estate Improvement Company of Baltimore, Md., against John N. Hillard, a petition has been presented to court in which it is asked that a valuation be set on property concerned in order that the amount of a deficiency judgment may be determined.
The judgment against the property involved was $4,919.29, which with costs, accrued interest and taxes amounted to $5,276.03. The property was bid in by the plaintiff at a sheriff sale for $50. The plaintiff claims that the real value of the property which is located on Lut-ton street is not over $3,500. A hearing has been set for February 24, at which both sides to the controversy may furnish testimony as to the value of the property.

As a result of a conference between Clarence Miller, representing the Carnegie Steel Company, the former assessor of the Eighth Ward and the county commissioners, the valuation of the steel company property located in the Eighth Ward has been reduced from $1,269,300 to $426,836, or a reduction of $842,464.
This reduction represents the valuations on the steel mill and furnaces which have been torn down.
The value of the land remains the same.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has received word from Harwarden, Iowa, to be on the lookout for Roy W.
Snell, aged 16, who has mysteriously disappeared from his home. He is described as being six feet tall, weight 135 pounds, light hair, blue eyes. He is not wanted for any offense, but his friends will pay a reward for finding him.

Attorneys Edwin K. Logan and Gilbert E. Long have presented a petition to court setting forth that Margaret E. Travers and Paul K.
Steel, children of the late Ada B.
Steel had asked that Logan be appointed administrator of the Steel estate. Logan filed a bond, but the letters were not issued, and he now asks that the appointment be revoked. Both attorneys now ask that letters be granted to Gilbert E.
Long. This appointment has been approved by the register and recorder, but the administrator has not yet qualified. This is for the reason that the Metropolitan Casualty Company, which furnished the Logan bond refuses to return the premium paid, or transfer the bond to Long. The register and recorder does not want to surrender the bond of Logan without authority from court. In order that the controversy may be settled, Judge W.
Walter Braham has granted a rule on the register and recorder to show cause why the bond should not be surrendered, the prayer to be granted unless an answer is filed by January 30.

LAUNCH ATTACK ON ADMINISTRATION POLICIES

Gov. Talmadge's Host In Session

Macon, Georgia, Is Scene Of Unusual Gathering Of Dixie Democrats

SOUTHERN STATES ARE REPRESENTED

By GEORGE T. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MACON, Ga., Jan. 29.—Governor Eugene Talmadge's flaming revolt against the Roosevelt administration took tangible form today in the assembly—here in middle Georgia—of a Democratic rally intent upon denouncing its program from stem to stern, and upon defeating President Roosevelt for re-nomination, if possible.

Comparatively few of those attending believed it would be possible to accomplish Mr. Roosevelt's defeat at Philadelphia next June, but under the leadership of the insurgent Georgia governor they proposed to make it as embarrassing for him as possible by demonstrating that there is disaffection in Dixie.

Several thousand attendants jointly sponsored by Governor Talmadge and by John Henry Kirby, Texas insurgent, the rally brought to Macon several thousand people, mostly Georgians, with scattering representatives from a dozen or so southern and border states. It was not a convention, the ordinary sense of the word, in that there were no "accredited" delegates list. It was, rather, a gigantic mass meeting of protest against the policies and conduct of the administration in Washington and almost everyone was welcome.

The original call was addressed "to the Jeffersonian Democrats of southern and border states," some 17 in number, Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, West Virginia, Missouri, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. Early today, the sponsors said that "most of the states" were represented, but it was apparent that most of those who thronged the city were Georgians loyal to Governor Talmadge.

Violated State's Rights
They assembled in response to the call signed by Talmadge and Kirby, asserting that "the present federal government in Washington has violated the venerated doctrine of state's rights" and that its acts since 1933 menace the fundamental principles of "Americanism and the constitution."

The strategy of the Democratic dissenters does not call either for the formation of a third party, or for the designation of a presidential candidate. Instead, they propose to bore from within the party by encouraging anti-Roosevelt candidates to get to Philadelphia in one way or another and there make it plain that the south is not as solidly Democratic as some people would assume.

Talmadge himself emphasized he was not a candidate—although it is possible that the "convention" may endorse him as embodying the temper of the gathering.

PRODUCTS IN DEMAND
HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—More than two and a half million dollars worth of Federal-State inspected fruit and vegetable products were sold by Pennsylvania growers in 1935, according to estimates made by D. M. James, Federal supervising inspector in the State Bureau of Markets.

The greatest increase took place in the volume of produce sold to canners. Approximately 100 million pounds of graded tomatoes, apples, pears, corn, cherries and grapes were sold to Pennsylvania canneries last year compared to 75 million pounds in 1934.

Honor Six Local Men At Banquet

Receive Valuable Gifts For Making Exceptional Safety Record

THREE WORK 10 YEARS WITHOUT ACCIDENT

Six New Castle street car or bus operators are the proud owners today of diamond-set gold rings or beautiful gold watches which were presented to them yesterday in token of exceptional records for safety they have made in the operation of their vehicles in serving the people of New Castle.

Three of them, J. G. Mariacher and J. L. Shoaff, bus operators, and A. W. Wolfe, car operator, received rings in appreciation of their records of ten years without an accident charged against their records.

The other three were C. E. Douglas, W. L. Reed and L. O. Rowland, car operators, each of whom received a fine gold watch with the name of the recipient and the occasion of the presentation engraved on the inner cap, as awards for completing five years free from accident.

The presentations were the high light of the annual safety banquet of the Penn-Ohio transportation system held in Youngstown in honor of operators of New Castle, Sharon and Youngstown who operated their vehicles throughout either the first half or the second half of 1935 without a chargeable accident.

The presentations were made by R. N. Graham, executive vice president of the transportation companies.

To each Mr. Graham expressed his personal congratulations and the appreciation of the company for the outstanding showing for safety the men had made in establishing their long records of freedom from accident.

Two hundred fifty-six operators had won their way to the banquet by their safe operation in 1935. Of these 193, or 73 per cent, in service the entire year, had gone through-out 1935 without chargeable accident.

Wives of the operators and officials of the companies joined with them in celebration of the safety victory. A varied program of music and entertainment was furnished during and following the dinners. Identical programs being furnished at each.

Oil Embargo Now Expected

(International News Service)
GENEVA, Jan. 29.—Backed by the other chief oil producers belonging to the League of Nations, Britain is now expected to take the lead Monday in a definite step towards cutting off fuel shipments to Italy.

Groundwork for this action was laid today at a meeting of technical experts of the league's sanctions committee.

NO STATE LEGAL AID FOR PRIVATE CITIZENS

HARRISBURG—Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti said today that the department of justice cannot give legal advice except to departments of the state government.

In the last few months, hundreds of persons have written, asking help on legal matters.

One woman in California asked about divorce proceedings. Several Pennsylvanians wanted help in collecting money due them, and another correspondent asked aid in analyzing the tax laws.

In each case Mr. Margiotti replied that the department of justice can give advice only at the request of heads of state departments, and suggested that the writer consult an attorney.

REPORT INCREASED DEMAND FOR WOOD

HARRISBURG—The Department of Forests and Waters reports an increase in the number of out-of-state inquiries from manufacturers who depend largely upon wood in production.

One of the most recent queries came from a walnut operator who was trying to locate a mill for cutting walnut gun stocks.

The Department of Forests and Waters has been furnishing thousands of walnut seedlings to land owners to meet just such a market. Walnut stumpage is always at a large premium.

EXPECT LUMBER BOOM
HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—Reports received by the Department of Forests and Waters indicate that the lumber industry is anticipating a heavy increase in building operations within the next ten years. It is estimated from these reports that six million new homes will be needed throughout the United States during this period.

committees, who are to address a questionnaire to all sanctionist countries asking exactly how coercive measures voted earlier are being applied, and how effective they are.

The same experts will meet Monday to decide if an oil embargo is possible in actual practice, and league authorities are now predicting affirmative action under Britain's leadership.

OHIO LEGISLATORS IRRITATE PAYMASTER
(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O.—Ohio's legislators are "going on the rocks"—financially speaking.

"The majority are busted flat," said J. F. Shela, disbursing officer in the state auditor's office, as he wearily faced a new deluge of expense vouchers turned in by senators and representatives alike.

Shela met the demands upon the commonwealth's purse without grumbling but impressed upon the insolvent lawmakers that they were violating a gentleman's agreement in their consistent daily requests for money.

"No other department of the state government," he said, "turns in expense slips more often than twice a month. That much is understood, to facilitate the bookkeeping in this division but some members of the legislature come trooping in here two and three times a week for inconsiderable sums that convince me that a good many of them are actually so far on the rocks they haven't cigarette money."

New Wilmington Man Re-elected

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Jan. 29.—S. M. Roberts of Sugar Grove and J. C. Rust of New Wilmington were elected directors of the Neshannock Mutual Fire Insurance Company at a meeting of policy holders held here January 27. Both officers succeeded themselves for a three year term.

The company was organized in 1884. It operates as a fire protection company on farm property in the counties of Lawrence, Butler, Venango, Crawford and Mercer.

Noted Educator Dead At Meadville

MEADVILLE, Pa., Jan. 29.—Dr. Richard Edwin Lee, nationally known in the field of chemistry, died at his home today. He was 69.

Dr. Lee headed the department of chemistry of Allegheny College 29 years. He had been ill nearly a year, undergoing treatment at Cleveland before being confined to his home.

He leaves his widow, the former Kathleen Florence Carter of Plainfield, Ind.

SEED TESTS

HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—Seed analysts of the bureau of plant industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, urge farmers and seed dealers who desire field seeds tested by the state to send samples to the Seed Laboratory at the earliest possible date. This will enable the laboratory staff to give more prompt service than can be given later when the usual spring rush starts.

Brown Heads Far In Lead

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 29.—Brown heads are the thickest on Westminster College campus, where there are 340 various shades of brown to 112 blondes, 94 black heads and 20 red-tops.

According to biological law, four children of a blonde and a brunette should be one blonde, one brunette and two brown haired.

Twice as many blondes were found among the women than men. Students were not required to indicate "natural blondeness" or "acquired."

BROTHER OF LOCAL RESIDENT IS BURIED

Funeral services for William M. Loupe were conducted in his late home, 195 Hollywood avenue, Youngstown, O., at 11 a. m., January 20. The Rev. Van Beaver, of the Evergreen Presbyterian church, was in charge. The address was delivered by Dr. Grant E. Fisher, of New Castle. Rev. H. K. Miller, of the West Bridgewater, Pa., Presbyterian church, a cousin of the deceased, offered prayer.

Interment was made in Woodland cemetery, Grove City.

Mr. Loupe is survived by his wife, four sons, one daughter and three grandchildren. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Grant E. Fisher, of New Castle, and Mrs. Pearl Boal, of Sharon.

The present census is being made as an answer to the request of business for dependable 1935 information for sounder planning of expansion programs, and is a continuation of the similar business censuses of 1929 and 1933.

All information obtained is confidential.

NOW THAT IT COSTS LESS TO BUY A CAR "ON TIME"

Use these Savings to help you get the kind of car you've always wanted

ALL of the mystery and a lot of the expense have gone out of time payments with the new GMAC 6% Time Payment Plan.

It's simple as A-B-C. Delivered price, less trade-in, plus insurance, plus 6%—that's about all there is to it. And it not only saves brain-racking—it saves money.

One result is that you can buy a Buick for little if any more than you're used to paying for a car in the lowest-priced class. Two or three dollars more per week puts a big car at your doorstep—maybe less, if you're used to "dressing up" low-priced cars to make them stand out from the crowd.

Why don't you let us show you what your money will buy under this improved plan—and with Buick's new low prices? There's no obligation at all in a demonstration—we get as much fun out of watching your eyes pop as you get out of Buick's thrilling ride. And how are you ever going to know whether you can afford a Buick unless you let us show you in dollars-and-cents terms?

Eddie Peyton Gets Year On Assault Charge

Dashing Night Club Owner And Westwood's Friend, Guilty Of Assault

WEEPS BITTERLY OVER HIS FATE

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29.—Dashing Eddie Peyton, the night club maestro who sought to save James J. Westwood from a murder conviction, became hysterical today when he was found guilty of aggravated assault and battery and sentenced to a year in the workhouse.

"Somebody do something for me! Somebody do something for me!" he screamed as his deputy sheriff dragged him away.

Peyton, one of the chief defense witnesses who testified Westwood was in his roadhouse at the time his wife, Martha, was slain, was charged with slugging Leonard C. Calder of Ingram, an electrical engineer. In addition to the workhouse stretch, visiting Judge O. Clare Kent of Crawford county, fined him $200 and the costs of the case as well as the cross-case entered by Calder.

Wife Not Present. The workhouse sentence was still another manifestation of the ill-fortune which has dogged the footsteps of many of the principals in the Westwood case, sending some even to their deaths.

Peyton sat in the very seat which Westwood occupied during his trial at which a jury doomed him to life imprisonment for the slaying of Mrs. Westwood.

Beautiful Bertha Peyton, his glamorous wife, who was also a defense witness at the Westwood case, was not present to see her husband weep bitterly like a child.

'Tipsy Driver' Is Scored At Kiwanis

Safety Council Speaker Lays Heavy Blame Upon Him For Deaths

"Any man who takes one normal drink of whiskey or beer two hours after he has eaten, is sufficiently intoxicated from a medical standpoint to be convicted of driving while intoxicated from a legal standpoint," David N. Denman, Latrobe, a member of the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council, told the Kiwanis club at its weekly luncheon in The Castleton today.

The sooner the drunken driver is eliminated from the road, the sooner 25 per cent of those killed on our highways will live, the speaker declared.

Mr. Denman's subject was "Why Sudden Death?" He discussed the various causes of highway accidents and asserted that "the only foolish things about a car is the fellow behind the wheel."

Mr. Denman told the clubmen that every nine minutes he spoke a person was killed on a highway somewhere in the United States. That is the auto death rate today.

"Speed," the Latrobe man said, "is not the fundamental cause of accidents, but rather it is the operator of the car himself."

Unemployment In December Shows Decided Decrease

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The estimated number of unemployed in the country during December was 8,979,000, according to the monthly survey made public today by the National Industrial Conference board. This represents a decrease of 218,000 or 2.4 per cent from the preceding month, and a decrease of 916,000 or 9.3 per cent below December, 1934.

If you promise to meet a person at 3:30, always be there at four. Then you have only five minutes to wait.

ADMINISTRATION IS DENOUNCED IN GEORGIA MEETING

and inviting communism, of squandering money, and of setting up autocrats in the seats of the mighty in Washington.

"And that sturdy soldier, George Washington," he shouted, "said that whenever this happens rise up and smite them."

"Nineteen hundred and thirty-six will go down in history equal in importance with July 4, 1776." To which Kirby: "And in another speech."

"If Franklin D. Roosevelt is a Democrat, then Sherman's march to the sea was a Yankee retreat."

Grass Rooters Attend

The audience that listened to these diatribes against the Roosevelt regime and its policies was composed of several thousand "grass roots" Democrats from a dozen southern and border states, but most of them Georgians who are loyal supporters of Eugene Talmadge. They packed Macon's municipal auditorium, which seats about 4,000 people. The radio provided even a larger audience.

Talmadge pitched his plea to oppose President Roosevelt on the key-note of states' rights, which he declared the south had fought for in '61, and which he described as being more endangered now than then.

"If the present program is continued for four more years," he declared, "the lines between the states will be only a shadow on paper, and the government of the separate states will be subservient to the will of a central power at Washington."

Calls Upon Rest Of U. S.

He called upon "our brothers in the east, north and west to join with us to see to it that local self-government is not obliterated by the whims of bureaucrats."

"Every true Democrat," he reiterated, "hangs his head in shame when he realizes that under the name of a Democratic administration boards and bureaus, and the president himself, say that the way to bring back prosperity to this country is through scarcity, have less to eat, less to wear."

Write Platform

Macon, Ga., Jan. 29.—The anti-Roosevelt Democrats of Dixie, mostly followers of Georgia's insurgent governor, Eugene Talmadge, today wrote a platform highly denunciatory of President Roosevelt, and called for the nomination of a candidate "of truth and character" at the Philadelphia convention in June.

"We invite," said the platform, "every patriotic American to join our ranks in wresting this government from the control of the socialists and communists."

"We accept word for word the unfulfilled parts of the national Democratic platform adopted in Chicago in 1932."

"We recommend that a candidate of truth and character be nominated and elected who will put into practical execution the provisions of that great document."

The platform enumerated the planks of the 1932 declaration which the "constitutional Jeffersonians" accused Mr. Roosevelt of violating—reduction in government expenditures, a balanced budget, a sound currency, and a competitive tariff for revenue.

It further recommended that the government "get out of business" and that a constitutional limit be placed on the amount of taxes that congress can levy and appropriate.

Passengers Are Recovering From Slight Bruises

Five Of Six Injured Pittsburgh Trolley Car Passengers Leave Hospitals

(International News Service) MT. PLEASANT, Pa., Jan. 29.—Five of six passengers injured when a runaway West Penn railway trolley car left the tracks here and careened into a hotel building, were discharged today from a hospital after treatment.

The victim still confined to the hospital was Sylvester Calabrese, 76, the oldest of 15 riders aboard the street-car when it dashed out of control. His condition is improving. Two passengers were released after several hours confinement while the remaining three were able to leave the hospital immediately after treatment.

CANNED SPEECH SMITH'S REPLY TO ROBINSON

how but it was no answer. As I said in my speech at the Liberty league dinner there is only one man who should try to answer me.

"No—I won't make any reply to Senator Robinson but I will say a few words about my old friend Joe. I was an unhappy warrior to hear him read off a speech over which he stumbled so that I felt sure it was canned and did not come from the heart of the Joe Robinson that I had known."

To Becloud Issue.

Smith then went on to say the Robinson speech was made for the purpose of beclouding the issue and that, while he would not reply to Robinson, he wanted "to keep the issue clear."

"Of course I said I was for farm relief—I still am," Smith continued. "In my Omaha speech in 1932, I proposed a constitutional and effective method. That doesn't keep the American people from rising up to protest against a silly and unconstitutional plan."

"Of course, I said that in war time we wrapped up the constitution and went under wartime powers. That doesn't keep the American people from demanding obedience to the constitution in times of peace."

"Of course I said that I thought there should be a dictator of federal public works with full power. Federal public works are the proper concern of the federal government. That doesn't keep the American people from protesting against federal interference with the individual lives of our citizens."

Denounces Bureaucracy.

"Of course I said government should lend money for relief to the states that needed it. That is what the Democratic platform said. That doesn't keep the American people from denouncing the creation of the greatest federal bureaucracy this country has ever seen and denouncing a new deal which has created a payroll for the federal government that has grown close to a billion and a half dollars a year not including the army, the navy, the CCC and the people on relief and the legislative and judicial branches of the government—just regular expenses and as Joe tried to cloud these issues so he tried to cloud others and when he called the roll of who was at the Liberty league dinner, I happened to see the great Democratic governor of the state of Maryland, Albert C. Ritchie; the candidate of the Democratic party for the president, John W. Davis; the great Democratic governor of the state of Massachusetts, Joseph B. Ely, and hundreds of other outstanding leaders of democracy, northern and southern alike, who are unlike some of my old friends who feel forced to give lip service to the new deal and seem unable to put country above party."

Smith was making preparations today for a two weeks' vacation in Florida. He will leave with Mrs. Smith for Palm Beach tomorrow night.

Seek To Complete Jury At Toledo

Two Men Accused Of Four Underworld Killings In Toledo, Ohio

(International News Service) TOLEDO, O., Jan. 29.—Completion of the jury which will hear the first degree murder conspiracy trial of Ralph Carsello and John Rai, accused of complicity in four underworld slayings, was expected in common pleas court here today. Carsello and Rai, alleged members of the Licavoli gang, are charged jointly with conspiracy to commit the murders of Jack Kennedy, Louise Bell, Abe Lubitsky and Norman Blatt. Three members of the gang have been found guilty of the crimes, two of them are serving life terms in Ohio penitentiary and the other is under sentence to die in the electric chair.

Five More Bodies Found In Swamp

Hurricane Death Toll In Florida On Labor Day Is Increased

(International News Service) TAVERNIER, Fla., Jan. 29.—Five more victims were added today to the toll taken by the labor day hurricane which swept the Florida Keys.

Two of the bodies were tentatively identified as Michael B. Davis, of Irwin, Pa., and George G. Harrell, of Quitman, Ga.

E. R. Lowe, justice of the peace, who reported recovery of the bodies in a tangled mangrove swamp on Lignum Vitae key, identified Irwin's body by means of a driver's license. Army discharge papers found on the other body indicated the victim was Harrell.

Fourteen Relief Workers Injured

Truck Transporting Relief Workers Is Hit By Pennsy Train

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 29.—Fourteen relief workers were injured today, two seriously, when a train crashed into a truck transporting them to work at a crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad here.

All but two of the victims were treated for lacerations and concussions. They were rushed to the Washington hospital.

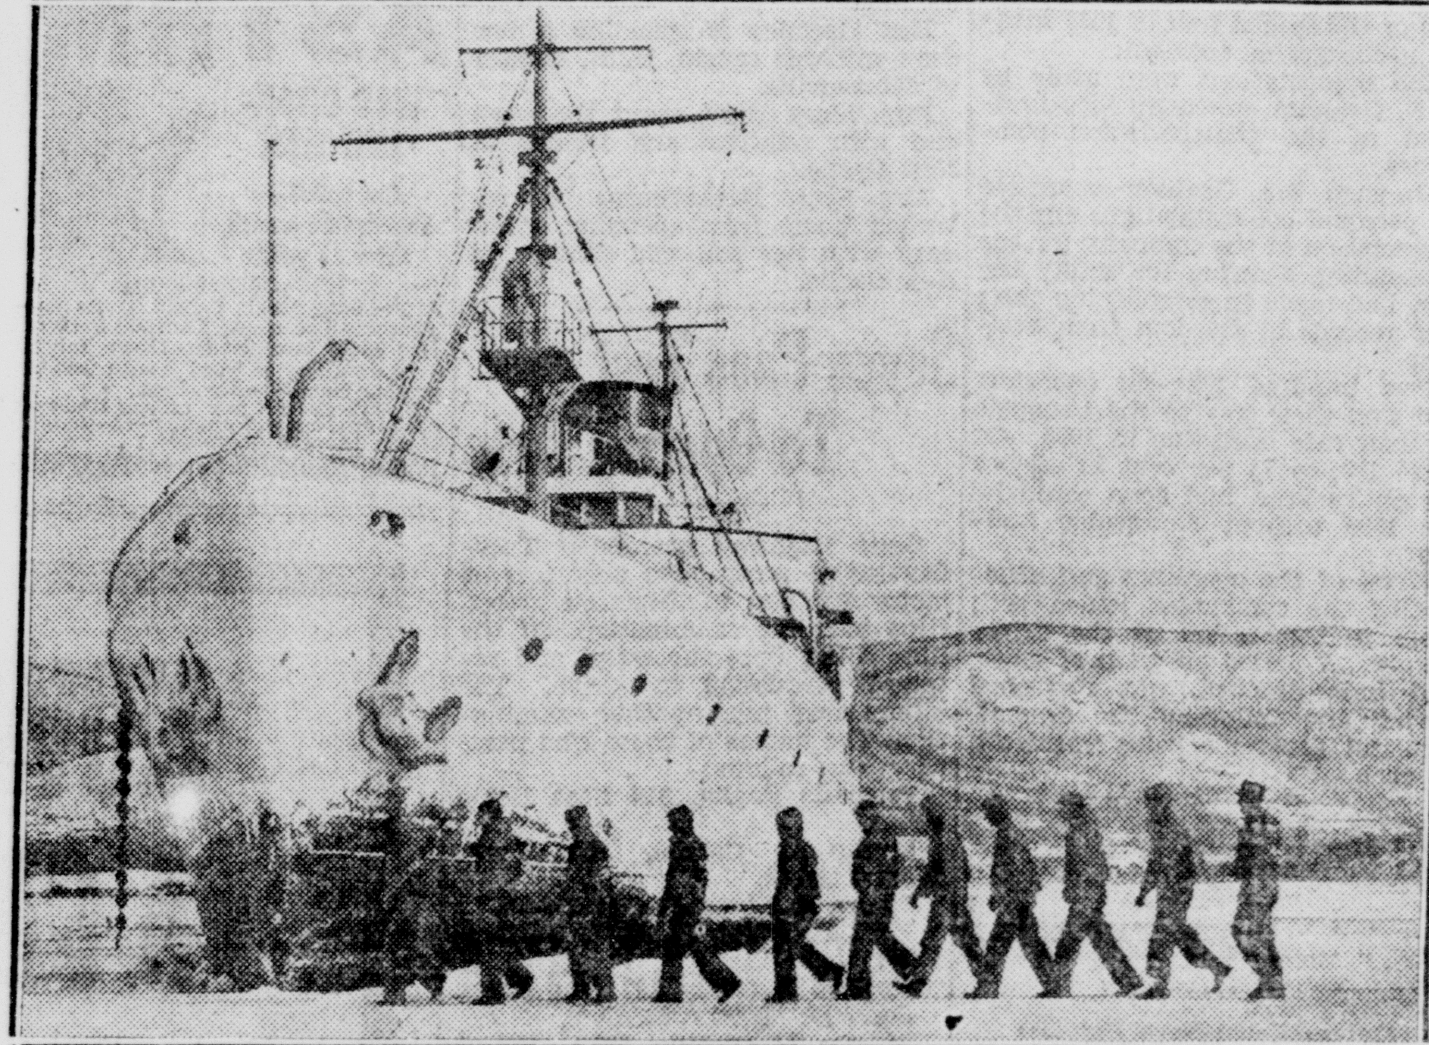

There were 21 men, enroute to a WPA road project near the children's home at Arden, at the time of the collision.

Secretary Swanson Upholds Refusal Of Admiral To Speak

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Secretary of the Navy Swanson today expressed his approval of the action of Rear Admiral Frank B. Upham and other high-ranking naval officers in refusing to address the Women's Patriotic Conference on National Defense here, owing to the attack made on President Roosevelt before that conference by former Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby.

Although stating that he was not previously aware of Admiral Upham's decision virtually to boycott the conference, the secretary said: "I certainly approve the action of Admiral Upham. I think the naval officers very properly resented an attack on their commander-in-chief."

Westwood Hurls Criticism Upon His Trial Jury

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29.—Doomed to life imprisonment for the slaying of his wife, James J. Westwood today began his legal battle for a new trial by criticizing the jury which convicted him and the judge who presided.

Westwood's attorneys charged that juror No. 5, George M. Mack, not only had a fixed notion of Westwood's guilt before the case began but that during the trial made motions further indicating his beliefs to persons in the jammed courtroom.

By still another of the strange coincidences which have featured the Westwood case, Mack was taken suddenly ill and given an emergency operation in a hospital as Westwood's charges were made public.

WPA Orchestra To Start Rehearsals

Rehearsals of the newly formed WPA district orchestra will start on Thursday morning, January 31, in the Cathedral. Director Ben Shulansky, stated today. Thirty-two of the best musicians in the four counties, Lawrence, Beaver, Butler and Mercer, have been selected for the orchestra and within a short time the orchestra should rank as a splendid musical organization. Mr. Shulansky will be assisted by Harry Hammond. As the rehearsals progress a program will be built which will include solos, quartets and novelty numbers.

Robinson Makes Reply To Smith

Roosevelt Administration In War To Finish With Al Smith Now

LIBERTY LEAGUE IS ALSO ATTACKED

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The Roosevelt administration today was definitely committed to a war to the finish on Alfred E. Smith, the Democratic standard-bearer of 1928, regardless of its effect on the 1936 election.

This was the widespread interpretation given here to the speech of Senator Joe E. Robinson, senate leader, in reply to Smith's attack on the administration at the Liberty league dinner. Robinson was Smith's running-mate in 1928 and toured the country then, praising his virtues.

"The Unhappy Warrior"

Robinson called Smith "the unhappy warrior," charged him with discarding the "brown derby for the high hat" and "read the record on him in an effort to show he advocated the very Roosevelt policies he now condemns."

It was believed here that Robinson's sarcastic attack on Smith would block all future attempts to heal the breach between President Roosevelt and the former New York governor. It appeared to be a war to the finish.

Robinson's reply was couched in rich sarcasm. Part of it was addressed directly to Smith. He began by praising his old running-mate's "clean and honorable campaign in behalf of the common men and women" in 1928, but expressed amazement that he now found Smith aiding the very enemies who whipped him in that campaign.

Calling the Liberty league dinner "the swiftest party ever given by the Duponts," Robinson declared Smith's speech was "just a rehash of confusing and meaningless generalities."

"Recovery Apparent." "The progress of recovery is apparent to every man who looks about him and the story of its onward march fairly leaps at you every day from the pages of the daily press," Robinson added. "Bear in mind that when the Roosevelt administration came into power hungry and abandoned men in the cities were searching the garbage pails for waste scraps and the American farmers were halting court foreclosures by physical force which borders little short of revolution. And Governor Smith says there has been no progress."

Time after time, Robinson quoted one of Smith's criticisms of the administration and then quoted from one of Al's 1928 or 1932 speeches to show the party's 1928 nominee favored the basic principle behind a Roosevelt policy.

"Throughout the 1928 campaign, Governor Smith hammered at the power trust, denounced greed and special privilege, and faithfully promised the people that if he were elected he would establish a new order of things and bring about what he called a 'more equitable distribution of prosperity.' Now he talks about stirring up class hatred but what he said then sounded a good deal more like 'share the wealth' than it does like the comparatively mild statements of President Roosevelt."

Repeats Smith's Declarations. Repeating Smith's denunciation of the NRA as a "giant octopus," Robinson read Al's speech of August 22, 1933, praising the NRA. Reading Smith's attack on spending, Robinson read Al's Jackson Day dinner statement on Jan. 8, 1932, saying: "Now if it is all right to put the credit of the government behind business, let the credit of the government be used to keep the wolf of hunger away from the doormat of millions of people."

As for Al's attack on the constitutionality of Roosevelt laws, Robinson read Smith's utterance of Feb. 6, 1933, demanding that the economic emergency be "fought as a democracy traditionally fights—by arrogating to itself the powers of a tyrant, a despot and a monarch."

Billy Treest Defeats Bath

Hank Bath Is About All Washed Up In First Big Test

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Hank Bath, Jack Kearns' candidate for the heavyweight championship, was a badly beaten but highly regarded candidate today.

Billy Treest of Batavia, Ill., slammed Bath to the canvas three times during the course of their 10 round battle here last night, but he could not keep the Coloradan there. In fact, he was in grave danger of taking a count himself, several times during the course of the best fight seen here in months—a slam-bang affair especially gratifying to the fans after a farcical one-round affair between Joe Louis and Charley Retzlaff two weeks ago.

The next regular meeting will be on February 25 at the home of Mrs. Joseph Gilmore, North Cedar street.

Only Few More Men Than Women In State Of Ohio

Girls Will Have Stiff Competition In Getting Their Man This Year

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 29.—It may be leap year, but the census figures show that girls who want to "get their man" are bound to run into stiff competition with each other in this state, according to population studies conducted by Ohio State University.

Latest calculations show that Ohio has only 1023 males over 15 years of age for every 100 females of corresponding ages. When you discount those in the brackets between 15 and 21 who are hard to snare at all times, plus the older ones who may have some will of their own, the catch is not likely to be abundant.

The scholars have also produced some more slightly disconcerting facts, for they announce that there are 1,514,131 married men in the state, but only 1,496,574 married women. To top that off, they say there are 37,165 divorced women, but only 33,696 divorced men.

HIGHWAY SURVEY IS MODEL FOR NATION

HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—Pennsylvania's Highway Planning Survey being conducted by the Department of Highways in co-operation with the United States Bureau of Public Roads is attracting national attention as a model for similar studies in other states, according to Secretary Warren VanDyke.

Although many states will undertake these detailed studies of highways—financing, routing, usage, etc.—the Pennsylvania study, although under way less than two months, is the most advanced.

Delegations from seven states have visited headquarters here and inspected the Pennsylvania setup with an eye for organizing their surveys similarly. These states are Oklahoma, Virginia, Michigan, Illinois, Idaho, Utah and California.

OHIO LEGION PLANS CITY FOR YOUTHS

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 29.—Boy State—a tented town of 500 high school boys, operating their own state, county, city and township government—will be conducted on the State Fair Grounds here June 21 to June 30, under auspices of the State Department of the American Legion.

The purpose of the experiment is to create a better attitude toward responsibilities of citizenship. "Citizens" will be chosen on the basis of honor, courage, scholarship, leadership and service. There will be no military formations or any attempt to give military training.

Bessemer High Tops East Brook In Section Game

Score Is 28 To 23 Tuesday Night At Bessemer High Floor

YOUNG-KURSHEL STARS OF GAME

(Special To The News) BESSEMER, Pa., Jan. 29.—Bessemer High school "Red Devils" basketball team declared itself very much in the running for Section 22 W. P. A. L. honors this year and also the county league race by knocking the East Brook high team off last night at the local floor 28 to 23. The victory gives the Fredricks coached team a 500 percentage in four games played, and puts the Bessemerians in a tie with East Brook.

Bessemer Leads
The Fredricks coached team took the lead in the first few minutes of play and held it through the game. The first stanza ended 7 to 5 Bessemer. The half was 14 to 8 Bessemer and the third period it was 24 to 12. East Brook put on a big rally in the final quarter of the game, scoring 11 points to four for the Bessemerians, but not enough to take the nod.

The game was rough in spots with big Kendall the East Brook center being forced out on fouls in the fourth period, as did Poushey of Bessemer in the third period. Poushey had three personals on him in the first period and was given a rest until the fourth period.

Even For Season
Coach DeWitt Emerick had his strongest lineup on the court for East Brook, but they could not overcome the Bessemerians. Poushey had three personals on him in the first period and was given a rest until the fourth period.

Scoring honors last night were held by Young and Kurschel of Bessemer with 15 of the points between them. Poushey and Marshall each kicked in with four points. For the East Brookers the work of Shuler and Waddington was the best.

Herbert Shoemaker of New York went into a tie with E. C. Rogers of Glen Cove, N. Y., for the lead in the national pocket billiard championship when he beat the 1935 runner-up, Herbert Courtney, of New York, 125 to 48 in the semi-final of the tourney at New York last night. The match was completed in 19 innings.

Junior A. M. A. A. U. boxing championships will be staged in the Metropolitan ring beginning tomorrow night and running through Friday and Saturday. Titles will be decided in eight divisions and a large list of entries has been received by the club.

In the flock there may be some good boys whom will be developed but it isn't likely that anyone would want to hang until the time one is developed sufficiently to beat Louis who accomplished more at the age of 21 than any other heavyweight fighter.

Wampum Defeats Princeton High

Wampum Hands Princeton High 41 To 17 Defeat At Princeton

Wampum High school basketball team county league leaders defeated Princeton High last night at the Princeton High floor 42 to 17 in a non-league battle. The Wampumians led at the half 25 to 8. Marshall and Flumer were the high scorers of the game. Stevenson and Dean were the best for the Princetonians.

Coach C. B. Henson used his entire list of subs last night and the boys who warm the bench most of the time gave fine accounts of themselves.

Same Driver Takes Titans Everywhere

Basketball Team Driven On All Trips To Other Colleges

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 29.—The Titan cagers from Westminster are probably the most superstitious bunch of basketballers in the entire district.

Already loaded down with taboos, the one they stick closest to is the insistence that James K. Criner, affectionately known as "Wimpy," drive them on all their road trips. For the past four years "Wimpy" has carried the Titans on all their basketball trips made by bus, with the exception of one trip.

Criner, a native of Butler, has been driving busses for the past six years. His estimate is that he has driven Titan football and basketball teams over 10,000 miles during that time.

Born in Butler, "Wimpy" went two years to Butler high school. His chief sports are hunting, and fishing for perch and pike in Lake Erie during early fall. He likes cross-word puzzles, movies on aviation and adventure, and his secret ambition has always been to be a forest ranger or an aviator.

"Wimpy" was given his nickname by "Wes" Bennett, Titan forward. To outsiders, Criner is merely "Ken." Riding directly behind him on all basketball trips are Bennett and Backus, Krivich and Humeke, and Willis, always the "fifth man" on the floor or out of the dressing room, rides fifth in the bus also.

Nothing is regarded as better luck to the Titans than the appearance of "Wimpy" as driver of the bus in which they make their trips.

MINE TIMBER DEMAND
HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—Pennsylvania mining companies purchased approximately seventy million cubic feet of round mine timber in 1935, or about two million tons. Department of Forests and Waters statistics show.

Shenango Noses Zelienople, 17-16

Tanner's Goal In Final 20 Seconds Wins Contest For East New Castle Quintet

(Special To The News) ZELIENOPLE, Jan. 29.—With the clock clicking the final 20 seconds of the game, Tanner scored a field goal to give Shenango high school's basketball team a 17-16 triumph over Zelienople high here on Friday night.

Shenango found Zelienople's defense impregnable in the first quarter, scoring but one point. The home towners found the net for 7 points. The blue and gold clad team of East New Castle held their opponents to 2 points in the second period and garnered 8 points to deadlock the score at 9 all.

In the third quarter the teams combined scored but 3 points, so air-tight was the defense of the two quintets. Tanner sent the sphere through the nets to give Shenango a 11-10 lead at the end of the third quarter activities. White converted a free toss for Zelienople's only point.

The final quarter was half over when Knoechel and Waters scored field goals and White annexed a second foul, to give the home towners a 16-11 lead. Tanner kept the Shenango team in the running with a third goal. Irvine closed the gap with another pretty shot. In the final 20 seconds, Tanner sank his fourth field goal of the contest to bring victory to the Shenango combination, 17-16.

Close guarding on the part of both teams was a feature. Tanner with four field goals was outstanding for the winners. Scheidelmantle scored 5 points for the losers.

Friday night at Shenango, the East New Castle passers will play one of their most important contests of the season, opposing Bessemer high.

After Beating Geneva Dukes Are On Toes For "Mountaineers"

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29.—Duquesne University's well high invincible basketball team trains its guns on West Virginia next Saturday night as part of a collegiate double-header at Motor Square Garden.

Coach Chick Davies' scintillating performers successfully hounded Geneva College last week and are prepared for a stiff tussle with Sleepy Glenn's enigmatic Mountaineers.

Coach Davies also is looking forward to the Dukes' return engagement with Villa Nova here February 4. The Red and Blue swamped the easterners several weeks ago and Villa Nova's crack team will be primed for revenge.

Following Villa Nova's excursion here, Duquesne tangles with Pitt on the stadium court in what promises to be the "piece de resistance" of the current floor season, February 8.

"Bootleggers" Of Game Caught

State Officials Arrest Men Shipping Maryland Game Into State

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 29.—"Game-bootlegging" was dealt a serious blow last week, when two of the most flagrant violators in this section of the country, were apprehended by an agent of the U. S. Biological Survey and a Pennsylvania Game Protector.

The officers work in cooperation with Dr. William H. Moore, former member of the Pennsylvania Game Commission and state president of the Pennsylvania Division of the Izaak Walton League, caught the men with a full consignment of Maryland quail.

The birds, killed in Maryland, and then shipped to the Philadelphia market, were intercepted not only in shipment, but also trailed across the state borders. Edward W. Stucke, Pennsylvania game protector for Philadelphia, Co., and Richard Hildebrand, the federal agent, used by "G" men tracing down kidnapers. The two violators were held for federal court since shipping game across state borders in defiance of state laws is a federal offense.

Rails And Utilities Lead Market Into Higher Ground Today

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Despite subsiding of inflation talk, the stock market pointed generally higher today while rails attracted new friends and utilities were higher although the industrial list was inclined to lag.

Western buying spurred farm equipment shares, with Deere running up 1 1/2 points and International Harvester 1. Aviation again were strong under leadership of Douglas and rubbers also advanced.

The 1935 earnings report of U. S. Steel, showing the first profit since 1931, lent strength to this group; big steel gained 3/4 of a point and Bethlehem also was up a small fraction. Republic Steel was in demand on benefits expected to be derived from its $45,000,000 refunding operation today.

N. Y. Central featured rails with a gain of 3/4 of a point. Atchafon and Northern Pacific also were in demand.

The dollar recovered substantially. Cotton rallied after opening 30 cents a bale lower to show a net gain of 1 to 6 points. Grains, however were off fractionally.

Fast Attack In Last Half Gives Ellwood Impressive 38-25 Victory

FLANAGAN LEADS IN SCORING RACE

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29.—Ellwood City High School basketball team gave indication that they will still have to be reckoned with before any honors are handed out, as a result of their impressive 38-25 victory over Rochester High Tuesday evening at Lincoln gym.

The locals played a moderate brand of basketball in the first half but suddenly came to life in the third quarter with a fast and diversified attack that baffled their opponents. Substitutes played most of the final quarter.

The game was close in the first two periods with the lead exchanging hands a few times. Ellwood finally came out in front 10-8 at the end of the opening stanza and an added push in the ensuing period found the score 18-13 in favor of Ellwood. Evidently Coach Schill wanted to his boys between halves for they seemed to be a new team in the third quarter. With fast passing, good team work, and accurate shooting the locals rolled up 12 points to Rochester's 2, making the score 30-15 at the end of the period. The game was played on fairly even terms in the final part with the invaders getting the edge 10-8 to make the final score 38-25 for Ellwood.

Kiwanis Troop Will Prepare For Annual Indoor Scout Meet

Kiwanis Committee Makes Arrangements For Mobilization And Training

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29.—A special meeting of the Boy Scout committee of the Kiwanis club was held last night to make plans for the forth coming annual Boy Scout Week celebration from Feb. 8-14.

The committee decided to mobilize its troop for an intensive training period for the next two weeks so as to be prepared for the annual Boy Scout indoor meet. The prize that they covet is the R. C. Steifel, Jr. trophy which at present is in their possession. It must be won three consecutive times for permanent possession. The cup will be presented to the winning troop at the dinner-meeting to be held Feb. 11.

The feature of this occasion will be an address by Elmer W. Faber, historian of the Pennsylvania State police.

All Kiwanis scouts are urged to report to the scout room of the Shelby clubhouse at 7 p. m. Thursday. The scout committee has taken action to make it possible for all regular Kiwanis Scouts to participate in the training period. They will also be guests at the dinner it was announced.

Kiwanis Club Has Meeting Tuesday

Interesting Talk Is Given By Charles Carbeau At Regular Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29.—An interesting meeting was held by the Ellwood City Kiwanis club at their weekly session in the Trinity Lutheran church on Tuesday evening.

Due to the failure of the scheduled speaker to appear, Charles Carbeau was asked to take charge of the meeting, which he did in a capable manner. He gave an interesting talk on local industries, in keeping them here, and securing new ones. Some suggestions for this was better passenger service, good financial aid, lower taxation, better co-operation of the industrial heads and townspeople. Following this a discussion was conducted on the proposed new municipal building. It was announced that a questionnaire was being sent out by the Chamber of Commerce amongst the larger taxpayers to sound out the opinions in regard to this.

Two club members from Butler and one from New Castle were special guests on this occasion. W. D. Porter will have charge of the program next week.

Casting Club Holds
Meeting Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29.—Casting Club of the Ellwood City Rod and Gun club held an enjoyable meeting in the Shelby Auditorium last evening with the ladies as special guests.

John Vogler won the first prize with a score of 9 out of a possible 12. John Kimblich and H. P. Fleischer tied for second with a score of seven.

After the casting bowling was enjoyed in the basement. Fleischer's team won two out of three games over Kimblich's team. The ladies joined in the event. The club will meet again next Monday night. The attendance has been increasing with each meeting. All are invited to join in the events.

MARIE KASHNER IS CLASS HOSTESS

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29.—Miss Marie Kashner proved to be a charming hostess recently when she entertained members of the Daughters of Ruth class of the Wurttemberg Methodist church who gathered at her home at Wurttemberg for the regular meeting.

The devotional period was conducted by Miss Esther Brown. During the business meeting plans were made to hold a Valentine party at the church on Friday evening, February 14.

An amusing period of games and contests followed with the hostess assisted by her mother, Mrs. Van Kashner serving an appetizing luncheon.

Miss Esther Brown, class president and Mrs. Emil Boots, assistant teacher, were agreeably surprised at this time when they were presented with an assortment of lovely gifts in honor of their birthday anniversaries.

The time and place of the next regular meeting will be later determined.

DINNER-BRIDGE CLUB HAS FINE MEETING

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29.—Mrs. W. E. Byers entertained the members of the Dinner-Bridge club at her home in Ewing Park yesterday. Bridge was the chief diversion of the evening with two tables in play. Mrs. W. G. Thorpe was found to be the winner of the high score award at the conclusion of the games.

After a dainty luncheon the club adjourned to meet again in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Walter Close on Wayne avenue.

Louie Kish Is Beaten And Robbed Of $90 In Cash
Late Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 2.—Ellwood City and state police are searching for three thugs who beat up and robbed Louie Kish of $90 late last night.

The robbery occurred on Clyde street, near the Burnstown gate of the local tube plant. He was walking along the street when he was suddenly set upon by three men who had stepped from the shadows. One had struck him in the face, rendering him dazed, while the other two frisked him. Ninety dollars in cash were taken from his pockets, he told local police.

Due to the darkness of the street Kish was unable to give any accurate description of his attackers. He stated that the three men were about.

OYSTER SUPPER

Party In Honor Of Anniversary Date

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29.—In honor of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hardie of Wurttemberg a group of friends and relatives gathered at their home on Monday evening to aid in celebrating the occasion of their second wedding anniversary.

After congratulations and best wishes had been extended, the hours were passed in a pleasant manner with games and music as the diversions.

At an appropriate hour a tasty luncheon was served by Mrs. Hardie assisted by her sister, Miss Elsie Pfugh.

Before departing for home the twenty guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Hardie with an array of very nice and useful gifts.

HAS SCARLET FEVER

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29.—Little Janice VanGorder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David VanGorder of Wiley Hill will not soon be forgetting the past week which has been so eventful to her.

A week ago she celebrated her ninth birthday anniversary. Last Tuesday she was injured when struck by an automobile and last Saturday she was stricken with scarlet fever and is now confined to her home.

Building Figures Show Big Increase

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—Building operations increased by 20 per cent in Pennsylvania during 1935, while estimated costs of those operations advanced to 50 per cent, the Department of Labor and Industry reported today.

Nearly 24,000 building operations, totaling $30,468,000, were carried out during the past year, while in 1934 there were 20,000 operations at a cost of $20,312,000. In December 1, 061 permits for building operations were issued by 91 municipalities in the state at a cost of more than $2,500,000, a decrease of about 1 per cent from the previous month.

Major Boyle To Head Paraders

World War Veteran To Be At Head Of Lincoln Club On February 12

CELEBRATION HERE TO DRAW THOUSANDS

When the Lincoln club of Beaver county parades from the P. & L. E. yards on East Washington street to the Cathedral on February 12, it will be headed by a gentleman who has seen some parading in his time, Major J. Ed. Boyle.

Major Boyle is one of the best known ex-service men in Pennsylvania. During the World War he served with the 28th division, and was wounded in fourteen places. Since his return from the World War he has been affiliated with the Lincoln club.

The Lincoln Day celebration here, sponsored by the club in Beaver county and attended by Republicans from every western and central Pennsylvania county promises to attract thousands to New Castle on February 12. The ticket sales are being limited to 5000 and the way in which the outlying counties are eating up the tickets it appears that there will be a shortage.

Hon. Fred W. Patterson and J. Henry Geer, the only two surviving charter members of the Lincoln club will have a place of honor in the line of march on February 12. President Bernard Steinfeld will be in line as will vice president Frank S. Hart and secretary William S. Reader.

New Farm Bill Will Be Reported

Senate Committee To Report New Program—See Prolonged Battle

MEMBERS DOUBT MEASURE IS SOUND

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Brushing aside its own skepticism, the senate agriculture committee today was prepared to favorably report the administration's revised farm program substitute for the invalid AAA.

This action assured a bitter fight over the measure on the senate floor, and left little hope of obtaining the agriculture department's objective of a new law by February 15, when some of the spring planting will get underway.

For even the committee members who will approve the new measure reluctantly admitted they doubted it was within the constitutional limits laid down by the supreme court in the AAA decision. Its chairman, Senator Smith (D) of South Carolina, told reporters the committee was dubious, and added that even the sanguine arguments in favor of the bill by U. S. Solicitor General Stanley Reed failed to fully convince them.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace termed the bill constitutional, but added significantly: "Constitutional and passing the supreme court are two different things."

Apparently the decision of the committee to send the bill to the senate with a favorable report was the result of a failure to agree on its legality in the closed sessions. By sending the bill to the floor, the committee will pass the responsibility along to the full membership of 96 senators.

Single Tax Plan Urged By Eckert

Congressman Speaks At District Of Columbia Women's Meeting

By ARTHUR C. WIMER (Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29.—Speaking here this week before the District of Columbia Federation of Women's clubs, Representative Charles R. Eckert, of Beaver, urged the substitution of the so-called single tax for the present taxation system.

Mr. Eckert argued that the solution of two age-old problems, economic security and war, is to be found in the passage of single tax legislation.

Unfair, unjust distribution of the products of labor is the basis of economic trouble in this country, Congressman Eckert told approximately 100 women who attended the meeting. He held that the single tax is a levy which would remove the incidence of taxation from the products of labor and industry to public utility franchises, land title franchises and other government concessions. Mr. Eckert believes such franchises should carry the burden of support, the government.
